

500 Fund 'Wonderful' Aid to Widow

By BOB PETHICK
"It is a wonderful help when there are little ones around," a widowed mother said yesterday, referring to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. Mother of four children, she received help from the fund last year.

"I was able to buy a gift for each of the children and paid some back bills. We were never troubled with bills when my husband was alive." Her husband died two years ago and she has found it difficult to make ends meet since the tragedy. "It takes an awful lot of adjustment no matter who goes first," she said.

Her husband was a wartime marriage, a happy one. Her husband held a well-paying job. The future looked bright for the family until the head of the household was suddenly stricken. With insurance money the widow bought a small business and made a desperate effort to keep ahead but, was bankrupt in six months. "I didn't ask enough questions and had no advice," she said.

She was soon forced to seek welfare assistance. Her name is on a waiting list for an evening job. She hopes to be taken on as soon as a vacancy occurs. "If I can only hold on for another two years my oldest boy will be able to help then," she said.

This family is one of 500 helped last year by The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. Each family received $20.95 as a result of the efforts of generous Greater Victoria residents.

Donations should be addressed to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund and mailed or brought to 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street.

A bride doll will be raffled at McLure's Food Market, 2518 Estevan. Draw will take place at the end of next week, and proceeds are for the 500 Christmas Fund.

Victoria Motorcycle Club will stage a scramble at Colwood Race Track for the Colonist 500 Fund. Racing starts at 1 p.m.

Did Dud Hit Cuba?

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A U.S. "double-header" satellite was deliberately blown up minutes after launching Wednesday, and a spokesman for a Cuban newspaper said early today part of a rocket fell in Cuba.

Revolt Beaten

Scotch Out For Army

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The defence department yesterday ordered U.S. military exchanges overseas to stop buying Scotch, Canadian and other foreign liquors.

Stop Buying U.K. Stock Ford Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In an effort to halt the flow of U.S. dollars abroad Treasury Secretary Anderson has asked Ford Motor Co. to stop its plans to pay $350,000,000 for outstanding stock and control of its British subsidiary.

Saanich Faces Contempt Writ Over Sewer

A motion filed in B.C. Supreme Court here seeks an order holding the corporation of the municipality of Saanich in contempt of a previous court order, handed down March 30 by Mr. Justice J. G. Rutman.

The motion is returnable in Supreme Court on Jan. 4, and particulars are being provided to all members of Saanich council.

Three years ago Saanich constructed a sewer line through part of the property of Warren E. Dennis, 3517 Lorraine—an act termed a trespass by the owner. Mr. Justice Rutman last spring held that Mr. Dennis owned the sewer line, and gave the municipality until Oct. 19 to shut off the line or move it out.

By that date nothing had been done by the municipality, and since Oct. 19 the municipality has instituted expropriation proceedings to acquire the land involved—an action deemed a further contempt by the motion, filed on behalf of Mr. Dennis by counsel Gerald Lauder. The motion asks that the municipality be found in contempt and dealt with accordingly, and offers proposals concerning the transaction that would be satisfactory to the plaintiff.

Riots, Killings Rip Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Communist and leftist students turned University City into a fortress yesterday and defied the army to oust them. Anti-government disturbances spread from the capital to at least six provinces. Three persons died as a result.

Nuclear Controls Stand

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker yesterday denied there has been any "watering down" of Canada's stand that it must have joint control of any nuclear weapons stored in Canada. He was commenting on remarks by William Fulbright, chairman of the U.S. Senate foreign relations committee, that Canada would be satisfied with being told beforehand of any firings of nuclear weapons stored in Canada.

"When and if nuclear weapons are used we shall not accept them unless we have joint control," Mr. Diefenbaker emphasized. The sources added that "we frankly don't think it did, but right now we just don't know."

Germans Buy Malahat Acres

West German interests headed by Prince von Furstenberg are reported to have purchased close to 2,000 acres of lake-studded second-growth timberland in the Malahat-Shawinigan Lake district. The area is to be converted into a tree farm.

Reports of the transaction, so far not confirmed by local agents for the group, indicate the land was purchased from Victoria interests for approximately $90,000. Last month the price-acre group purchased 1,400-acre Moresby Island 18 miles north of Victoria for approximately $200,000.

Triumphant Homecoming

Tug Breaks Into Bits Crew Leaps for Life

BANDON, Ore. (AP)—An ocean-going tug, in swirling currents and a driving wind, crashed into a rock jetty as it came into the harbor here Wednesday, and broke into bits minutes after its rudder failed.

All 11 men aboard were saved—10 by a pair of fast-acting men on the tug Rebel, and one largely by his own efforts. The 117-foot tug Elizabeth Olson of Eureka, Calif., had just headed into harbor when a swell slammed it into the jetty.

Skipper A. T. Peterson and deckhand Bob Fisher raced to the spot aboard Rebel, threw two lines on the wreck and the tugs were held close enough for 10 men to leap to safety. Before the Rebel came up, the stricken tug's skipper had been swept off the deck by one wave and washed back by another.

Seaman Paul Madsen and deckhand Madsen were swept overboard but managed to clamber to the top of the jetty and made his way ashore along it. "I told smack him," Mrs. Kew said Russell would not let her visit his home to see her daughter. Russell testified that on Nov. 20 Mrs. Kew broke down the locked front door, tore his shirt, broke his watch and hit him. "I did smack him," Mrs. Kew told the court. She was ordered to sign a bond to keep the peace for six months.

Fight on Floor Resumes Today

OTTAWA (CP)—With a national rail strike less than 60 hours away, the government ran into stiff opposition in the Commons Wednesday to its emergency stop-the-strike law.

Both Liberal and CCF-New Party opposition groups denounced the government's legislation to head off the threatened Saturday walkout of some 111,000 rail workers on the CPR, CNR and four smaller railways.

SECOND READING
The Liberals sought to kill the bill at second reading—approval in principle—with a technical amendment charging it establishes "a compulsory and discriminatory wage freeze for railway employees."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker closed off the 110-minute debate at 6 p.m. EST without a vote on the Liberal amendment.

FLOOR FIGHT

The fight on the floor of the Commons—watched from the galleries by chief union negotiator Frank H. Hall—will resume this afternoon, with the strike deadline of 8 a.m. regional standard moving closer by the hour.

Opposition speakers attacked the legislation which Labor Minister Starr called "the only possible action that can be taken at this time to avert a calamity of nation-wide proportions."

BASIC ISSUE

While none liked the idea of a strike, opposition MPs lambasted the government's plan to shut the railway strike crisis ahead to May 15 without solving the basic wage issue behind it.

The Liberals called for a compulsory settlement tied to a conciliation board award of 14 cents an hour for the so-called "non-op" workers—railway men who do not run trains. Douglas Fisher, CCF member for Port Arthur, speaking for his party and the single New Party MP, argued for a subsidy solution to the multi-million-dollar wage stalemate.

DOOR OPEN

Labor Minister Starr said the government intended to leave the door open to a negotiated settlement at a time when conditions will be favorable.

able rather than adopt other opposition suggestion. The Commons tackled the rail legislation after giving third and final reading by a 208-to-0 vote to a bill providing government-guaranteed bank loans to small businesses. The vote followed defeat of a CCF amendment calling for the bill to be referred back to committee for "clarification."

IN STALEMATE

The stop-the-strike bill, introduced in a hurry for first reading Tuesday night, leaves the unions and railways still in a stalemate over the wage issue.

It would defer any strike action to May 15, when the government expects to have passed legislation giving new life to the ailing railway industry—legislation based on a royal commission report due March 31.

Both Mr. Pearson and Mr. Fisher argued that the government's legislative freeze on collective bargaining—and its ultimate conclusion, a strike—would discredit the whole conciliation procedure.

Less Fallout

Test Ban Pays Dividends

LONDON (UPI)—A team of British scientists said yesterday the Big Three's suspension of nuclear test explosions is paying dividends in a decrease of radioactive fallout. A report by Britain's atomic research and testing unit at Harwell said the peak in world fallout was reached last year. The last known nuclear tests were both held by the French this year in the Sahara Desert on Feb. 13 and April 1.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

THERE will be no figure of Premier W. A. C. Bennett in Victoria's new waxworks museum when it opens next year.

John Steele, managing director of the museum, has been trying vainly for some months now to see the premier and ask permission to have a figure made.

Somehow, Mr. Bennett always contrives to be out when Mr. Steele calls.

Perhaps the premier doubts Mr. Steele's credentials. Or perhaps he is afraid that someone is going to ask the government to contribute some money.

He can set his mind at rest. Mr. Steele has a franchise from the firm of Josephine Tussaud and Co., and the managing director of that firm, Keith Gems, is a personal friend.

Mr. Steele only wanted to get some pictures of the premier, and his measurements—including head size, measured with calipers.

He also wanted to get a look at the premier and take note of any characteristic facial expressions and gestures, so that he could report these details to the sculptor in London.

One other eminent B.C. man was to be included in the display—the Hon. P. A. Gagliardi. The highways minister gave Mr. Steele a friendly reception. He was willing to co-operate.

However, it is now too late to include a figure of the premier in the first year's group. And Mr. Steele considers that it might not be good form to include Mr. Gagliardi without his chief.

So the patrons of the museum—when it opens—will have to do without B.C.'s two liveliest political leaders, for the time being. However, everybody knows what they look like.

First figure to arrive in town will be (anybody want to guess?) Queen Victoria. She will be arriving some time after Christmas. She will be received with almost as much fanfare as a flesh-and-blood queen—parties, and automobile tours.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele are both school teachers. Mr. Steele gave up his post as principal of Roosevelt Park School in Prince Rupert to launch the waxworks plan.

No building has yet been fixed upon for the museum, but the operators have several under consideration.

The building will have to be a fairly large one. It will contain 60 figures to start, and others will be added each year.

Among the figures to be shown will be Sir Winston Churchill, His Holiness the Pope, the Duke of Windsor, Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker, Marilyn Monroe, Frank Sinatra, President-elect Kennedy, Sir James Douglas, Capt. Cook, Capt. Vancouver.

Dickens, Twain, Kipling, Hans Christian Andersen, Napoleon, Nelson, Washington, Lincoln, George III, Charles I, Henry VIII, Cleopatra, Columbus, Cabot, Bach, Joan of Arc, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, George Bernard Shaw.

I think the museum will be a big success. Sooner or later, someone is bound to ask: "How are you going to tell the wax figures from the denizens of Victoria?"

Well, how are you?

Your Good Health

If Epileptic Has Seizure Ease His Thrashing About

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

The secretary of an institution which has large numbers of people at its meetings asks this sensible question:

"What is the best procedure in caring for someone who has an epileptic seizure in a public place?"

This doesn't happen very often any more, but it can be a frightening experience.

We are talking of the grand mal type. It is the one in which the patient has a violent attack. The petit mal type results in an attack of only a second or two, or a very few seconds' duration, with the victim perhaps pausing in mid-sentence, and then going on again as though nothing had happened.

DRUGS HELP

It's the hard, grand mal type of epilepsy we are dealing with here. The development, in recent years, of the anti-convulsant drugs has reduced greatly the number of such attacks.

But when one does occur, what can you do?

If it is a person with whom you are familiar, you may, like the patient, notice some preceding signs, or "aura," which sometimes gives forewarning of a seizure. MAY—not WILL. Sometimes muscular twitching, pallor, flushing, yawning or other signs may be harbingers. Then there's loss of consciousness, the extremities become rigid, the head jerks, the eyeballs usually roll upward although the lids may be open or closed. There may be frothing at the mouth. The jerking of head and limbs, as the muscles continue to convulse, increases. Finally the patient usually falls asleep.

The whole process may consume five to 10 minutes.

WHAT TO DO

Here are the things you can do:

- Prevent the patient from hurting himself as he thrashes about. Don't try to hold him rigidly still. Just see that he does not bruise or otherwise hurt himself by banging against the wall, floor or furniture.
- Roll him on his side, if possible, to prevent him from swallowing his tongue.

- If possible (sometimes it isn't) place something between his teeth, or whatever, to keep him from biting his tongue.

- Open his collar for easier breathing.

There is no point, and usually no possibility, or giving or trying to give medicine. The value of medicine, in nearly all cases, comes before hand to prevent such a convulsive seizure.

RARE NEED

Only in rare instances, when there is a prolonged seizure, is it necessary to have a physician give sedatives by injection, since there is no other way to give them in such a case.

In short, take care of the patient by easing him through these difficult minutes. Keep him from harming himself during the state of involuntary thrashing.

Don't fear him. The attack is a contraction of his muscles, but it is nothing for you to fear. The danger is to the grand mal sufferer only.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible for a six-week-old baby to have pinworms? In his stool I find small hairs that move."

A. K. I know of no reason why such a youngster couldn't get pinworms. They can spread like wildfire when they are around.

I repeat an earlier warning: Meticulous washing of the hands, and great care in keeping the fingernails clean as well, is necessary to prevent depositing an invisible pinworm egg on food, or on clean clothing, bed linen, etc.

Chaos Prevented

PRIME Minister Diefenbaker's timely move to prevent a nationwide railway strike will be applauded by the majority of Canadians of every political hue as an act of courage designed to protect both the people and the economy of this country at a most critical period.

To introduce and implement such restrictive legislation is no doubt as distasteful to the present government as it is to the people it affects—yet Mr. Diefenbaker had no alternative if chaos was to be averted.

There is little doubt that the unions involved will protest the action and even though they have assured the public that their members will abide by the law they are already threatening to make Mr. Diefenbaker pay dearly for what he has done.

In fact, one railway workers' spokesman contends that the prime minister has "broken faith with labor" and committed political suicide.

It is made quite clear in the proposed bill that the rights of the unions and the railway employees will be fully preserved and protected until May 15, and it is very unlikely that union men will suffer anything more than an inconvenience.

Meantime the country continues to operate—the bill will effectively stop thousands of men and women, whose work depends on the railways, being thrown into the ranks of the unemployed.

It should also be noted that the government attempted in every way possible to bring about some agreement between the railways and the employees, and even suggested that the unions voluntarily call a halt to the strike until the report of the MacPherson royal commission on railway operation is presented. This approach was not only flatly rejected but was met with a counter proposition that the government subsidize the railways with taxpayers' money in order that the non-operating employees could be paid in full their increased wage demands.

The prime minister, whose responsibility is to all Canadians and not just one section, rightly refused to consider the proposal, and took the only alternative remaining.

Though he may incur the wrath of one segment of the country's labor force, Mr. Diefenbaker has undoubtedly aroused the admiration of the country as a whole for it was in the interests of the country as a whole that he acted.

Too Big a Load

PREMIER Bennett has added strength to his cabinet by the two new incumbents sworn in this week, but his distribution of portfolios as a result might be open to question. In one instance at least he seems to have fashioned the load unduly, on Education Minister Peterson.

Mrs. Buda Brown will bring the not unwelcome influence of a woman's viewpoint to cabinet councils. As a minister without portfolio she will have no departmental authority, but there should be ample scope nevertheless for the exercise of her special talents and sympathies. One expects she will enjoy an undefined mandate to assume special tasks as they eventuate.

The other new cabinet member, Mr. Frank Richter, should ease some of the problems lately affecting agricultural matters. As a prominent cattleman and farmer his approach to current difficulties will be backed by practical experience and knowledge and more confidence in the ministerial direction of this department should now obtain.

The reshuffle of other portfolios is not so impressive. No doubt Conservation Minister Westwood can absorb the additional responsibility of commercial transport, formerly a side duty of the labor minister, but adding labor affairs to the education minister does not seem a wise move.

Mr. Peterson must have all he can handle efficiently in education alone.

This dual allocation rather tends to downgrade the importance of both these portfolios when in fact they are among the most important in the cabinet. Both are realms in which full-time application is almost imperative; each is of pressing concern in the continuing life of the province.

The Chant report on education will shortly be forthcoming, for instance, which no doubt will embrace far-reaching proposals, requiring assiduous follow-up action. Education is also one of the crucial matters of current attention in view of the financial burden falling on municipalities and public resistance to the ever-rising incidence of school costs.

The labor portfolio is of equal import, inviting as it does the stability of the work force of the province and therefore the productive effort on which the prosperity of B.C. depends. There are never-ending problems to be dealt with and these necessitate full and not part-time attention. With the best will in the world Mr. Peterson cannot be expected to cope to his satisfaction with two such demanding portfolios.

Premier Bennett says these appointments are permanent but it will be surprising if he does not find it necessary to make further changes before too long.

Let's 'Play It Safe'

NATIONAL Safe Driving Week began today, timed to encourage people to be particularly careful during this most dangerous period of the year, when dark nights and bad weather combine with the crush of Christmas traffic to make the streets hazardous for all.

Though the campaign officially lasts for one week, its lessons and warnings will be impressed on travelers until traffic density subsides after the New Year holiday. All police forces are co-operating in this life-saving endeavor, but their best efforts can accomplish little without the full co-operation of the public.

Everybody is included in this campaign. For the sake of brevity it is called Safe Driving Week, but it is also safe walking and safe cycling week—indeed, the main emphasis might profitably be transferred to those two ways of getting about.

The great majority of drivers fully appreciate the heightened risks at this season, and for many years Greater Victoria has had one of the best traffic records on the continent for the Christmas-New Year period. Pedestrians and cyclists, however, are apt to act as though believing themselves to have charmed lives.

With early darkness and poor visibility aggravated by the glare of lights on wet pavements, pedestrians and cyclists who venture too confidently into this kind of traffic, especially when wearing dark clothing, should remember that the most careful driver in the world, moving at reasonable speed and observing all the rules, may be unable to see them in time to avoid an accident. This warning is directed mainly to those who have never driven and therefore cannot appreciate a motorist's difficulties under bad conditions.

Care on the part of motorists, walkers and cyclists in equal measure can enable Victoria to chalk up one more yuletide season free from fatal accidents, instead of turning Christmas joy into tragedy.

Interpreting the News

UN's Delicate Status

By DAVID ROWNTREE, Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEARLY six months have passed since the Congo gained its independence from Belgium.

Not only is the country still crippled by financial and administrative breakdown but the UN has almost impoverished itself in its mission of mercy.

To a great extent, the feeling of disenchantment over the UN's patient efforts to bring even a smattering of stability to the Congo results from a misunderstanding of aims.

Dag Hammarskjöld cannot, either under the charter or the resolutions passed by the Security Council and the General Assembly, decide who will be premier or what form of government the country should have—a loose confederation of provinces or a strong federal structure.

All along, the UN has avoided advancing the causes of deposed premier Patrice Lumumba or his rivals, President Kasavubu and army commander Mobutu, or Moïse Tshombe, the Katanga provincial leader.

The care with which the UN secretariat has respected the right of Congolese to decide their own internal affairs stands in danger of being overturned by the seating in the General Assembly of a delegation loyal to Kasavubu.

United States sources looked on the pro-Kasavubu decision as a "victory" but it was a victory gained at the expense of Afro-Asian support which Washington is anxious to gain.

It will be difficult for UN officials in the field to maintain an air of impartiality while in New York Kasavubu is looked upon by half the world body's members as the head of the legal Congolese government.

"The way I get it, the new president plans to unleash the U.S."

Thinking Aloud

Gerald Waring

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

IT is unwise to overdo things. One should always remember the point of no return.

Just as one may protest so much as to arouse suspicion, so one may indulge in too much butter or tempt fate too far.

There was an officer in the Caine story, if I remember correctly, who was at odds with his captain and the latter cited him in a fitness report as "Above Average."

This didn't ring the bell as it might seem to do; in fact it silenced it for USN practice was to regard such a rating as not much better than "Nonentity." Only an "Excellent" rating was a pass mark.

Exaggeration defeated itself, although in this case by intent of the captain.

I have a similar note somewhere about Douglas Fairbanks Jr., well-known movie figure who did good work during the war. In his early naval days he was suspect by his fellow officers who were disturbed by his popular acclaim. One captain took a liking to him however and gave him the maximum 14 character points.

A bad mistake. Not even John Paul Jones or Admiral Mahan was that perfect, and the recommendation backfired. Fairbanks was packed off to another assignment.

The moral is obvious, yet daily most of us chance our luck to the limit, placating fate perhaps by touching lampposts as Dr. Johnson did, or throwing salt over the left shoulder.

Some of this is because the line of demarcation isn't always too clear, especially if greed or vanity clouds the picture.

When is enough? It is hard to say, when you hope you can squeeze just one advantage, and maybe another, and another.... and soon.

How far should you gamble, press a good thing? At what stage do you rest content with things as they are? A difficult decision, for greed or vanity is tempting. And often the man who plays safe doesn't win too much applause.

One thinks easily of Gene Tunney in this respect. He preferred to stop while the going was good. He could have had another million dollars for one more fight, but he chose not to risk having his brains scrambled. He retired content, undefeated.

That showed the worth of his brains, but admiration of him was diluted.

There is a strange perverse glamour attached to the person who stakes all on a throw of the dice; who makes the grand gesture even though in reality it may label him as foolish.

For it is folly; is it not, to tempt fate too far, past the point of no return?

We are seldom if ever content. Always we think afterwards; "I could have gone another step, with safety."

Safety is the rub. Few of us are born gamblers, born devil-may-cares. We want security as well as the golden rainbow. And normally one cannot have it both ways.

Is it wise then to risk your luck too far, in small things as well as big; to bite off more than you can chew because conceit urges you on?

I suppose not, but it might be unwise for me to drive the moral home too strongly lest that also may press a thing too far.

Reports from Ottawa

MARK Dec. 4 on your calendar.

That's next Sunday, the day Chancellor Adenauer meets President de Gaulle. If things go Adenauer's way, our East Block will receive a real hotfoot on the question of nuclear weapons for Canadian forces in Europe.

Adenauer will try to persuade the French president to go along with the plan for a NATO atomic arms pool proposed by the NATO commander, Gen. Lauris Norstad.

This plan would mean atomic arms for Canadian soldiers and airmen in Europe. It's the plan that Canadian MPs attending the NATO Parliamentary Association meeting in Paris have approved. It's the plan that Defence Minister Harkness told the Commons last Thursday he didn't know anything about.

De Gaulle's aim is to create a French national atomic force, enhancing France's power and prestige. Moreover, he has long been an unenthusiastic adherent to the NATO pact. Thus he is not likely to be an easy sell on the Norstad plan—especially as the plan had not at this writing received the blessing of Senator Kennedy. Without the approval of the U.S. president-elect the plan is likely to be too iffy to impress a French president prejudiced in favor of France, not NATO, as the fourth member of the atomic club.

Even Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan has made his approval contingent on Sen. Kennedy's approval. But Britain already has atomic arms. Canada does not, and while the military want them, the East Block—home base for the cabinet and the department of external affairs—cannot seem to make up its collective mind.

The Packsack

Pools of the Imagination

By GREGORY CLARK

SEVERAL readers have written to protest the Packsack's suggestion that the human brain is merely another gliblet to be kept under control by common sense and an occasional resort to medical aid, just as we control our stomachs, hearts, lungs and the other fellow organs of the brain.

Most of them refer to the capacity of the brain to go wandering off on its own, as if it were something apart from us, with an authority unto itself; as if, indeed, it were independent of us. Sometimes, say two or three of my critics, the brain behaves as if it were us!

To admit that, of course, would be complete surrender.

In one of his essays the late Sir

The proposal will come up at the meeting of the NATO Council of Ministers in Paris in mid-December, and then Canada will have to take a position. The period of fence-sitting, while waiting on decisions in Washington, London and Paris, is rapidly coming to a close.

Foreign Minister Green is the principal opponent in Cabinet of Canada's acquisition of atomic arms. For him this is a moral issue rather than a military one. He is an unbending person, with iron in him matching that of de Gaulle, and his firm belief in the wrongness of atomic arms and nuclear testing leaves little room for compromising with him.

If Green can bend to accommodate the Norstad plan, the one argument that might bend him is that the Norstad plan is intended to forestall de Gaulle's plan to make France the fourth atomic power. The establishment of a French national atomic force would be much less desirable from the point of view of those working for world disarmament—and none has worked harder towards this end in recent months than Howard Green.

The plan would provide for collective control of the atomic weapons in the NATO pool, which would be a big step towards eventual collective control of all of the Western alliance's atomic weapons. Liberal leader Pearson has long advocated NATO control of the atomic weapons on the U.S. and Britain—in other words, an end to national control of these weapons within the alliance. Thus he favors the Norstad plan as far as it goes. But it won't go very far unless NATO capitals, not excluding this one, rally to its support.

Hole in the Hill

The Madness Of Mankind

By CASSANDRA

VANDENBERG AIR BASE, California—Behind me are the long, great rollers of the Pacific Ocean falling with soft thunder on the lonely, yellow beach. In front lies the great air base of Vandenberg in southern California.

There is nothing like it elsewhere in the world—68,000 acres of low hills, shallow valleys and unspoiled moorland.

In one of the Vandenberg hills there is a hole. And this hole, nearly 200 ft. deep and 60 ft. across, is perhaps the most shocking and profoundly-impressive sight that the United States has to offer to a menacing and frightened world.

This is the prodigious pit—one of many—from which Strategic Air Command is ready to launch the Atlas and Titan missiles against the Soviet Union. It is so deep, so massive and so complex that it makes a warship's engine room seem like a boudoir by comparison.

On the top of "The Hole" are enormous steel and concrete doors weighing over 100 tons that open and shut by massive hydraulic rams.

Only a direct hit from a nuclear bomb could wreck this mighty, movable roof. The pit or "silo" as they call it, is honeycombed from the walls outwards, with underground control rooms, banks of electronic computers, power houses, air-conditioning plants, food dumps, kitchens, first-aid centres and every kind of scientific ante-chamber.

The approach from the outside is by way of double concrete doors into a steel-lined tunnel. It penetrates hundreds of yards into the hill before you reach the great, echoing place where the missile stands as a monument to the genius and madness of mankind.

This is the place where men, having made the surface of the globe untenable for them, retire to extinguish their own species from underground.

Around the site are radar guidance stations called dopplers. These, too, are hidden below the ground until ready for action.

As the doors of the bomb nest open so do the hatches above the dopplers. They rise to the surface and are ready to guide The Bird—as it is, jovially called—and set it upon its celestial course to raise unspeakable destruction where it lands anything from five to 10,000 miles from the nest.

The Bird rises incredibly slowly, puts its snout above ground, and then with the blast of hell is off.

In four minutes' time the Atlas casts off the bottom part of its rocket, which is about the size of a lorry. This falls back through the atmosphere still relatively intact.

Then after another four minutes of the 30-minute flight, the second stage breaks away—a piece of apparatus about the size of a bus. This is burnt up as it re-enters the atmosphere and disappears in an incandescent smudge.

The warhead, or the business end, carries on in its tremendous trajectory. It is relatively a tiny peanut compared with the rest of the gigantic rocket.

The true fission part which will wipe out a major city, and I quote, "About the size of a wastepaper basket." The death of the world is packed up real neat and tidy these days.

In England the nuclear disarmers have been protesting with great vehemence about the relatively tiny Thor launching sites in East Anglia. God knows what they would do and say if they could see these stupendous troglodyte installations near the orange groves of sunny California.

I have seen American plans for transferring the entire direction of war operations to flying command posts should their ground headquarters be wiped out.

I have learned of their scheme now sanctioned by the White House to build an initial order of 16 B70 bombers which will fly at over 2,000 miles an hour at a cost of $40,000,000 apiece.

I have been informed of their latest super missile, the Nova, which will be about twice the height of Nelson's column and could not cost more if it were made of solid platinum.

The olive branch of peace may sometimes look a little withered these days. But never in all history has it been guarded in the United States by so many shining, bristling and costly swords.

CANADIAN FORUM

Canadian Forum this week presents "Alcohol and Alcoholism" by Air Marshal Sir-Philip Livingston, KBE, CB, CBE, AFC, FRCS, of Cowichan. Born and raised in the Cowichan district, Sir Philip had a distinguished service record that saw him retire as medical director general of the RAF and return to Vancouver Island in 1951.

A noted lecturer, he has written many learned papers and was prominent in research during his RAF career. He was an honorary surgeon to King George VI. As an athlete, he was the first Canadian to row in the famous Oxford-Cambridge boat race, in 1914.

His present consulting practice leaves him freedom to lecture and support many community and provincial projects.

Publisher Scoffs

Magazines Of Canada In No Danger

HALIFAX (CP)—Michael Wardell, Maritimes magazine and newspaper publisher, challenged members of the royal commission on publications yesterday on statements that Canadian periodicals are in danger of being put out of business.

"I think it's nonsense—a lot of rubbish," he said when commission chairman M. Gratton O'Leary suggested Canadian magazines may be in danger of extinction.

Mr. Wardell said he does not think the proportion of Canadian magazines that ceased publication in recent years is any higher than in other countries.

"I don't think our Canadian magazines are going to die. They are flourishing in circulation and advertising."

Regional Magazine

Mr. Wardell, British-born, is president of University Press of New Brunswick Ltd. at Fredericton. The company publishes the monthly Atlantic Advocate, a regional magazine, and the daily Fredericton Gleaner.

In his brief to the commission, Mr. Wardell said some aspects of foreign competition may need adjustment but any general assault upon American magazines should be combatted at all costs.

He suggested that Canadian publishers are in competition with magazines from Ontario and Quebec.

He said Weekend magazine and the Star Weekly, with the largest circulations in Canada, publishing, must be considered as magazines, although Weekend is distributed by newspapers as a supplement.

Tolerate Competitor

"It is a tribute to the genius of John G. McConnell (president of Weekend) that this brilliantly contrived weekly magazine has been harnessed to the newspapers from coast to coast, so that they carry their most dangerous competitor with an unconscious tolerance seldom equalled since the Trojans admitted the horse into their city."

Mr. Wardell quoted advertising executives as saying they must recommend the best advertising buy for their clients, whether in foreign or Canadian periodicals. Similarly, the Canadian reader had an undoubted right to read the magazine of his choice.

Oak Bay Conservatives Elect Gage President

W. M. Gage has been elected president of the Oak Bay Progressive Conservative Association, succeeding Clarence S. Goode. A desk set was presented Mr. Goode in recognition of his services.

A report on plans being formulated by the federal government to deal with present day problems was given the annual meeting by James A. A. George.

A resolution offered services of the association to the Esquimalt-Saanich federal association for the coming by-election.

Norman Pittam was elected first vice-president; Mrs. D. C. F. MacArthur, second vice-president; T. B. T. Hewett, treasurer; and Miss Brenda Taylor, secretary. The executive is: Clarence Goode, James A. A. George, Clive D. Campbell, Ian C. Danvers, J. A. F. Else, Gordon Elworthy, Mrs. F. V. Hinch, Mrs. T. Mann, E. M. Moore, Art Sherwin, Ian Sherwin, and Maj. Gen. C. R. Stein.

Alcohol and Alcoholism

Liquor a Peril to Emerging Nation

By SIR PHILIP C. LIVINGSTON, FRCS

At these times of decision in our upward trend toward national stability and international stature, each responsible citizen should be alert to the issues of the hour, clear in judgment, gifted with perspicacity.

Our past history of courage and determination, as exemplified in the outstanding achievements of personnel of all arms in the wars of Kaiser Wilhelm II and Adolf Hitler, are unexcelled by any nation. It is therefore the more disquieting that our memories of those whose loyalty and leadership became imperative to our survival should have so grievously declined that we have come to accept with complacency and tolerance a standard of social conduct that is weak and irresolute.

Factors

I do not believe that heredity is important in alcoholism. Adverse influences during pre-maturity I regard as extremely serious; the more so in a young country seeking its identity among nations steeped in history and tradition. It is dangerously easy to confuse precocity with wisdom.

In British Columbia too many children have experienced much of what we call "life" by the twelfth year. An early taste of "all experience" does not fortify a people for the stern tasks of later years. It merely warps character, so that the sordid becomes the social mean.

Effects

Roughly stated, man is endowed with two brains and consequently two minds. The first in phylogeny is the instinctive or "reflex" brain; the second, the effective or "analytical" brain. These have become interwoven with innumerable lines of communication known as tracts. The narcotic ethyl alcohol is not a stimulant. Its action on the brain and therefore mind is to depress the analytical or controlling centres, thus allowing domination by the reflex centres.

Dr. L. G. Moench states that there is a close correlation between alcohol and crimes of violence. Professor H. Ebel holds that alcohol is responsible for 40 per cent of motor vehicle accidents involving injury and death. When it comes to considering the damage wrought on the human body by this narcotic, the picture is appalling.

Aggravating

The beds of our hospitals are over-occupied with cases where alcohol is either the primary cause or an aggravating cause. There are reported to be 25,000 registered alcoholics in British Columbia and probably an equal number unregistered. If the grave effects thus presented were confined to the individual, the problem of control would be narrowed. But alcoholism disrupts family life, degrades moral standards and tends toward the spread of venereal disease. In business and industry the effects on efficiency, combined with a reduction of the power to command, weaken the chain of output.

Control

An expresident of the Alcoholism Foundation has stated that "the social damage from alcoholism has all the earmarks of an epidemic!" This is a serious pronouncement. It implies that a grave sickness grips this province. Responsibility for such a situation affects all, especially those elected to public office.

Since my return to Canada, after an absence of 40 years, I have been amazed at the lax attitude adopted by many who profess a deep interest in our welfare and destiny. There appears to be only a rudimentary conception as to the meaning of leadership. I have heard it argued in support of a candidate for a certain office that addition to alcohol was not to be considered a cause for rejection. Would those people fly in an airliner knowing the pilot to be drunk? We are letting the side down and throwing an insupportable weight upon those who are striving to raise our standards and encourage confidence in our integrity.

Responsibility

The Government, forthwith, should consider the following lines of action:

(1) Revise the duties and appointment of magistrates. All magistrates should be qualified in the profession of the law. They should have at least five years of experience in practice before taking up their duties on the bench. They should be specially chosen for their aptitude in their duties, and paid an attractive salary. No appointee should work in the district of his upbringing.

Closer Equation

There should be a closer equation between crime and punishment in relation to traffic accidents in which the effects of alcohol are manifest. At present sentences for closely related incidents differ.

Mall Test Abandoned

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Workmen yesterday were dismantling Toledo's second experiment with downtown pedestrian malls, ending a 20-week experiment which cost $21,000.

The city council voted 6 to 3 two weeks ago to halt the test despite urging by some city officials that it be extended through the Christmas season.

Conduct Standards Become Irresolute

widely, as between one district and another.

(2) Impose a firmer discipline upon premises granted licences for the sale of alcoholic drinks. Where laxity leads to drunkenness the licence should be withdrawn from the landlord after the third conviction.

(3) The issuance of driving licences should be dependent upon consent to a blood test for alcohol at police request.

Raise Grant

(4) The annual grant to the Alcoholism Foundation and associated bodies should be raised from the present $75,000 to $150,000. The Ontario figure is said to be $410,000. In view of the considerable figure of $30,000,000 acquired by our treasury from liquor, such a contribution should be fair and reasonable. The argument that much of this vast sum goes to pay the bill of drunkenness, is fallacious. The clear duty of the government is prevention.

(5) I am far from convinced that the parent-teacher association as now constituted is a progressive measure. I have seen the education system of Australia demonstrated to me in Melbourne, where discipline and the team spirit are closely guarded. Our weaknesses in comparison are deplorable.

Provide Homes

(6) It is essential that homes be provided for the treatment of alcoholics and those moving on the road of no-return. Only in this way can a program of rehabilitation be undertaken. This demands not only healthful surroundings, but also a staff specially selected for this urgent work of human salvage.

Today, there is much talk about a national flag, an anthem that the church plays its art, and is not sidetracked by the majority of psychologists and psychiatrists. It is characteristic of some to cast derision on the church. The church is not a militant organization that can impose her will. Her present demonstrating.

Will Trade Baby for Room'

LONDON (UPI)—A mother yesterday pledged her unborn child in exchange for an apartment.

Mrs. Gladys Bowler placed this advertisement in a local shop window: "Wanted — a flat in exchange for my baby."

The child is expected in March.

Mrs. Bowler and her 44-year-old disabled ex-soldier husband Frederic have to leave their windowless basement apartment by Saturday. "I must find a home," she said,

"but no one will have us."

She said she and her husband discussed the baby-for-a-flat deal while here three children were at school.

"For their sakes," she said, "we decided to give our unborn baby away in exchange for a flat."

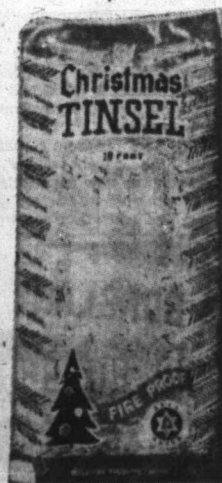

She added: "With the baby will go all the clothes I have knitted and toys as well."

Recession May Drag On Liberal Senator Warns

OTTAWA (UPI)—Liberal Senator T. A. Crerar, a director of Algoma Steel and other companies, yesterday warned the Senate that the current business recession may be protracted.

"I am rather apprehensive that we may be in for a protracted period of difficult times," he said.

He foresaw a period during which the optimum might be that things would not get any worse, but which "could last 12, 18 or 24 months."

Sen. Crerar spoke in criticism of the government's amendments to national housing legislation.

The former Liberal cabinet minister said too much pressure was being placed on people to buy houses on which they would not be able to keep up the payments if times got worse. He also criticized legislation under which "tens and even hundreds of millions of dollars may be spent" at a time when the federal treasury was facing a serious financial situation.

Senate Liberal leader W. Ross Macdonald criticized the housing legislation for charging the individual home builder 6 per cent, while it granted a rate of 5 1/2 per cent to builders of limited dividend projects, to municipalities and universities.

Sen. Macdonald also questioned the demand for the legislation. He pointed out that the number of unsold houses in Canada was up 25 per cent over a year ago.

Sen. W. M. Wall (L-Manitoba) said the legislation would be of little benefit to those whose incomes were less than $4,000 a year. He said that over the term of a 35-year loan, the total cost of a $14,000 home, including interest payments, would become $36,476.

Sen. David Croll (L-Ontario) endorsed the legislation, but said it should be expanded to include provision for low income workers. There is a crying need for 40,000 subsidized low-rental units in Toronto alone, and for at least 250,000 such units across the nation, the senator said.

Fireside TV Chats?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect John Kennedy may stage live televised news conferences—some of them in the evening—as sort of modernized "fireside chats" started by Franklin Roosevelt.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said such programs were being actively considered. However, he added, "we still are a long way from any decision."

Lumberman W. H. Munsie Dies in City

William Harris Munsie, 71, of 1008 Johnston, well-known lumberman and sportsman, died Tuesday.

He was born in Victoria and was a former owner-operator of Shawinigan Lake Lumber Co. Ltd. He managed the firm for 26 years and retired in 1936, turning his interest to fishing, hunting and dogs.

He was a former president of the B.C. Agricultural Association and was a member of Hoo Hoo, the international lumberman's fraternity.

Surviving are two sons, John W. of Princeton, and C. Harris of Toronto; one daughter, Mrs. Betty Sells of Victoria; four sisters, Mrs. Laura Wilkerson and Mrs. E. J. Cameron of Vancouver, and Mrs. W. S. Day and Mrs. Hugh Barrett of Kelowna; and 14 grandchildren.

Coastal Logging Firm Shut-Downs Put 1,000 Workers on Furlough

VANCOUVER (CP)—Five large forest companies have put about 1,000 coastal loggers on furlough.

Some companies are shutting down because of heavy snow in high logging operations and poor market conditions. Others are closing on normal schedule.

Many more loggers are expected to be laid off in the next two or three weeks.

Rayonier Canada Ltd. was to close the last of its camps Wednesday night.

A company spokesman said camps usually close in mid-December but poor market conditions and higher than usual inventories forced earlier shutdown.

Crown Zellerbach said 250 men have been on furlough from the Courtenay area because of heavy snow and other operations would shut down Dec. 9 and 16 when 1,000 men would be laid off.

Puppets No Pushover

LONDON (UPI)—An authoritative British publication warned the West yesterday not to take it for granted that Russia's satellite armies would prove unreliable in case of war.

"It would be unrealistic to base any political or military calculation on the expectation that they might desert the Soviet cause," said The World Today, a publication of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, in a report on satellite military might.

The survey estimated that the Soviet satellite states have regular armies totalling about 850,000 men, plus 300,000 men in semi-military units.

EXTREMELY UNWISE

These forces might prove unreliable in dealing with internal revolts, the survey said, but "it would be extremely unwise to jump to the conclusion that they would never fight by the side of the U.S.S.R. against an external foe."

Poland: The army has been reduced from 20 to 15 divisions and its leadership has been reorganized in the wake of the political upheaval of 1956. Soviet "military advisers" have been withdrawn from the country.

Czechoslovakia: Has 15 divisions, equipped with up-to-date weapons, including airborne units of divisional size. Russia appears to regard Czech troops as "more reliable" than the Poles.

Bulgaria: There are 11 divisions, including four mechanized ones closely approximating the Soviet model.

Romania: Has 15 divisions, not believed to be as well equipped as other satellite forces.

Hungary: The army was virtually wrecked in the revolution of 1956. Only four divisions are believed to have been rebuilt.

East Germany: About seven divisions, including two armored. All are well trained and equipped.

Tshombe Boycott

Congo 'Roundtable' Unlikely

ELISABETHVILLE (Reu. Congolese capital of Leopoldville) Premier Moiseville.

Tshombe of breakaway Katanga province in the Congo, route to the area of his Bate refused Wednesday night to attend a proposed round-table conference of Congolese leaders if "that madman Lumumba" is present.

He announced his refusal even as a widespread search continued for ousted Congolese premier Patrice Lumumba, who escaped from enforced residence in Leopoldville Sunday night.

In Brussels, the Belgian radio, quoting official Congolese sources, said Lumumba is heading toward Port Franqui, about 350 miles east of the whence he would go to Stanleyville, Oriental is controlled by ville, capital of Oriental province, his partisans.

Stately Home Escapes Fire

Stately home of Yarrows vice-president H. A. Wallace, 3175 Beach Drive, was not in danger despite a hurry-up call from the Uplands to Oak Bay firemen last night.

Intense glow which worried neighbors came from a burning woodpile at the rear of the property. Cause of the fire was not known.

Warning against any attempt to meddle in Portugal's colonies in Africa was delivered last night by Portuguese Premier Salazar in his first major public speech in two years. Salazar, 71, said there would be "very serious difficulties" for those who intend to dedicate themselves to the task of emancipating "Portuguese Africa" and added his country will not accept any UN interference in that area.

VIEWSON SPORT

By Red Smith

The men who own baseball never weary of telling the public what a hazardous business they're in and how, if it weren't for their selfless dedication to the game, they would invest in something safe like breeding schnauzers and spend all their evenings drinking champagne from a slipper with two dozen chorus girls giggling and throwing the dark meat out the window.

By playing endless variations on this theme, they get themselves a reputation as "sportsmen." This is perfectly splendid and nobody should knock their racket. It just happens to be a fact that in the whole history of baseball, nobody ever went broke running a team in the major leagues. This cannot be said of the delicatessen business.

To be sure, there have been club owners who went broke. Harry Frazee, who had the Red Sox, tapped out backing turkeys in the theatre and turned to baseball to bail him out. Sid Weil, who owned the Reds from 1930 to 1933, lost everything in the stock market, including his ball club.

One of the least successful owners was Gerry Nugent, who scrounged along for ten years holding the Phillies together with bent hairpins and chewing gum. Gerry was a former shoe salesman whose wife inherited the team, he never put a nickel into it, drew a cosy salary for ten years and got out with something to spare.

In other words, this is the sweetest grift in the world, and the longer a fellow regards it, the more he respects the man who wrote, many years ago, that "baseball has to be a great game because it has survived in spite of the men who run it." Let us consider the recent performance of the men who run it.

Buried in Bold Print

Most of them are highly regarded in industry or business or finance. Not one would sell a load of gravel without checking the credit rating of the buyer. It goes without saying that they are conversant with the laws governing their operations. As for the rules governing baseball, that's something else again.

The National League had formerly granted a New York franchise to Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson and her associates and the American League had boldly announced its decision to enter Los Angeles before anybody in the game discovered that both moves might be against the rules.

Even then it was left to Ford Frick, rather than one of the men directly involved, to call attention to the provision requiring unanimous consent of both leagues for invasion of any team's territory. Some of us outside baseball knew about this requirement a good 30 years ago, when Sam Breadon was wistfully eyeing Detroit as a new home for his Cardinals, but hearing nothing about it in 1960 had carelessly assumed it no longer existed.

Probably the owners should not be criticized too harshly if they don't know the whole code by heart. This particular regulation, for instance, is Rule 1, and buried in the bold print at the top where anybody could miss it.

Then there's the order of business regarding the new team in Washington. The Americans first assigned the franchise to Gen. Pete Quesada's group and then told the successful bidders what it was going to mean to them: financially—an immediate mandatory outlay of $2,000,000 for second-year players.

Players at $75,000 Per

Suppose you're Pete Quesada. You establish your financial responsibility, assuring the league that you're prepared to invest $2 million in the venture. Naturally, you assume it's your right to spend the money where and as you see fit. Not until they've already let you in do they tell you that you must buy your whole squad from them, taking the players they esteem least for a flat price of $75,000 a man.

Since you're not getting stars anyhow, maybe you have other plans for stocking your team less expensively. You might prefer to buy just a few culls from the majors and pad out your roster with minor leaguers and free agents, hoping they can hold last place until you get a farm system working. At the very outset, you're a right to know what you're getting into before you get in.

Jack Kent Cooke, of Toronto, would welcome an American League franchise but not on the terms laid down for Washington. He would insist on keeping those members of his Maple Leafs who, he believes, are at least as good as the stuff the Americans would offer. Recently he sold a player to an American League club for $15,000. Cooke has no burning ambition to take him back out of the grab-bag for $75,000.

Moving with unthinking haste toward ill-considered decisions, the boys have got into an impossible situation. While they wriggle and squirm trying to extricate themselves, one insistent question presents itself: Who got them into this bind in the first place?

They did, the same big league operators who handle great fortunes, direct vast enterprises. It says here.

Trade Market Quiet But Not for Long

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Only one minor deal was made here last night as baseball's owners gathered in preparation for the winter meeting, but there was plenty of excitement generated by talk of trades that might happen soon.

Baltimore Orioles, acting while others were just talking, bought outfielder Earl Robinson from Los Angeles Dodgers for an undisclosed price.

Most of the trade talk centred around San Francisco Giants, thwarted in their deal to send one-time pitching ace Johnny Antonelli to New York Yankees for catcher John Blanchard. Giants are apparently near a deal with Cleveland Indians that would send the lefthander to the Indians for infielder Johnny Temple and pitcher Dick Stigman.

Holding up the deal is Cleveland manager Frank Lane, who wants it to include a swap of Tito Francona for Felipe Alou or Willie Kirkland. Giants won't give up Alou, but hinted they would deal for Kirkland.

Orioles, in desperate need of outfielders, tried to buy Roberto Clemente for cash from Pittsburgh Pirates, who won't give him up for anything less than one of Baltimore's young pitchers like Milt Pappas or Jack Fisher. Orioles don't care a bit for that, so the deal might boil down to something like Gino Cimoli for Skinny Brown or Wes Stock.

Milwaukee Braves, so anxious to beef up their bullpen that they are considering making a reliever out of 19-game winner Lew Burdette, are trying for Yankees' Ryno Duren, Dodgers' Larry Sherry, or Philadelphia's Dick Farrell.

In other trade talks, Cleveland is reportedly willing to deal outfielder Jim Piersall "for something of equal value." St. Louis Cardinals said Joe Cunningham is up for trade; Cincinnati is trying for Boston's Frank Malone, offering Roy McMillan and Joe Nuxall in exchange, and Detroit Tigers said an emphatic "no" to at least three offers for second baseman Frank Bolling.

OTTAWA (CP) — Halfback Ron Stewart will be back with Ottawa Rough Riders next season, coach Frank Clair said Wednesday.

Stewart will attend Osgoode Hall in Toronto to continue law studies starting in late September, and this resulted in speculation in some quarters that he might either stay out of football or line up with Toronto Argos if a deal could be made with Riders.

Clair said Stewart would go through the full training period with the Grey Cup champions and play half the schedule before school time.

"From then on, he will have to commute," said Clair.

Milt Graham, a standout tackle with Ottawa since 1956, indicated Wednesday he might not be back in football next season.

Graham told a reporter he might leave the Grey Cup champions, to devote all his time to his plumbing and heating business in Boston.

Grandfather's Offer Matches Kramer's

MELBOURNE (AP) — Pro tennis promoter Jack Kramer has struck a snag in negotiations with Italian Davis Cup ace Nicola Pietrangeli.

Pietrangeli has received a counter-offer to Kramer's guarantee of $50,000 for a three-year contract. It came from his grandfather.

"My grandfather is very anxious for me to remain an amateur," Pietrangeli said Wednesday.

Hayhurst Rink Beaten, 11-5

Defeat of Steve Hayhurst featured last night's second game in the round-robin series. Hayhurst cracked a four-ender on the eighth to take a 9-3 lead.

Tony Gutoski also had his troubles but managed to squeeze out an 8-5 win over Gerry Walls. It was tied at 5-5 after nine ends, Gutoski got one on the 10th, stole one on the 11th when Walls had to try outside for a draw to the four-foot ring to go two up. Walls had a chance to tie coming home. He was counting one with Gutoski laying second only an inch or two away in the four-foot. Walls had to come in around a guard to Gutoski's rock, was a bit heavy and nipped the outside of his counter.

In other games, Gordie Moore broke his engagement with Sam Rycroft open by stealing three on the seventh end for a 9-3 lead, and Elmer Hoffman won by default from Larry Marshall. Eric Bullock had a bye.

Results left Gutoski and McLean out front at 2-0. Bullock also unbeaten at 1-0. Hayhurst, Moore and Hoffman are 1-1. Walls 0-1 and Marshall and Rycroft 0-2. Next games are on Friday at 9 p.m.

Four ladies rinks started play last night in another round-robin series which is the start of the provincial playdowns.

Betty Stubbs bested P. Martin, 9-3, in a meeting between the two favored entries. In the other game, Kay Trevelyan came from behind to eke out an 8-7 win over V. Leroy.

Miss Trevelyan trailed by 5-0 early but came home at 7-7 with last rock edge. When she went to use it, Miss Leroy was counting one in the middle of the four-foot with her rock half covered by a short guard. It was a choice of an out-turn chip or a double raise of her own rock which was well in the centre ring. Miss Trevelyan chose the latter shot, chipped her front rock onto her second rock and moved it to the button to win by about two inches.

Second Straight Sawoff In Colonist Cup Soccer

By JIM TAYLOR

Unless they throw a little light on the Colonist Cup soccer final it may never end.

Mount View Hornets and Victoria High proved that again yesterday, playing to a 2-2 draw. As evenly matched as any two teams you're likely to see, they finished the first game deadlocked 1-1.

Both games had to be cut down from the regulation 90 minutes to 60 because of the threat of impending darkness. It's getting dark a little earlier every day, and neither team is a step closer to the city high school soccer championship.

Both coaches and both teams want the third game to be a sudden-death affair under the lights at Royal Athletic Park next week, with as many overtime sessions as necessary to decide the issue. There are two stumbling blocks.

First, they may have trouble getting Royal Athletic Park. They tried before the series started, and were told the park had to be saved for district soccer league matches and practices. (That same week Edmonton Eskimos used the field and Victoria played Winnipeg Rams in the Little Grey Cup match).

Secondly, the school board has been known to frown on school activities on any night other than Friday, when basketball is played at the schools under school supervision.

TRY AGAIN

But coaches Dave Price of Vic High and Val Hinch of Mount View plan to try again, and for the sake of the series they had better succeed. Both agree that with two teams so closely matched, it is a shame to shorten a game and take a chance on the series being won on a shot no one can see.

Tentative date is Monday or Tuesday night. If nothing can be done, the game will be played Monday afternoon, probably at Mount View.

Yesterday's game was deadlocked with just three minutes to play when Jim Clarke scored for Hornets from a scramble 20 feet out. Goalie John Paul, who appeared slightly out of position, dove for the slow dribbling shot, missed it, and watched it roll with agonizing slowness towards the goal post, hit it on the inside, and bounce in.

Vic High had gone ahead earlier in the half when inside right Ranjit Dhillon headed a shot past goalie Larry Johnson. Both first-half goals were on penalty kicks, with Ernie Leenheer scoring for Vics and Al Boden tying it up. Hornets, who lost to Oak Bay in last year's final, went through the seven-game season undefeated this year, and the three Vic High goals are the only ones Johnston has given up.

Stampeders Upset By Portland Bucks

Portland Buckaroos, faced with a plunge to the basement if they lost, upset the first-place Calgary Stampeders, 4-3, before 5,770 fans to climb into fifth place in the Western Hockey League.

Two power-play goals by Gordie Fashaway made the difference for the Bucks, who aren't in as tough a position as their present standing would indicate. Although tied for fifth place with Winnipeg, they are only five points out of second, and hold four games in hand over Seattle and Edmonton, one over Vancouver, and six over the Stamps.

In last night's other game, Spokane Comets climbed a little too, with a 4-2 win over the Warriors. Although still in last place, they at least share it with someone now, namely Victoria Cougars.

Fashaway got Portland's first two goals as they led, 2-1, at the end of the first period. Lou Jankowski got Calgary's goal. Then Jankowski and Ron Leopold scored in the second period to send Calgary ahead, but Portland fought back with goals by Bobby Krake and Gordie Haworth before the period ended. Third period was scoreless.

Belligerent Don Head, the Portland rookie who seems determined to set a penalty record for goalkeepers, drew an interference penalty in the first period and got another

Honolulu Wins PCL Franchise

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Pacific Coast League announced Wednesday night it will operate in Honolulu in 1961.

Dewey Soriano, league president, said several parties are interested in operating the franchise. He said league representatives will meet Friday at San Francisco with Chinn Ho, president of the Honolulu Stadium Corp. to complete lease arrangements.

Tentative schedules call for each Coast League team to make two trips to Honolulu.

Tiger Makes Sure Over Wilf Greaves

EDMONTON (CP) — Dick Tiger of Nigeria regained his British Empire middleweight boxing championship with a technical knockout victory over Wilf Greaves of Edmonton at 1:20 of the ninth round of a scheduled 15-round bout Wednesday night. Greaves weighed 160 and Tiger 159.

Tiger, who lost the title to Greaves in a controversial decision in Edmonton last June, began rocking his opponent with lefts and rights early in the ninth and referee John Smith raised Tiger's arm after 80 seconds of the round.

A small crowd of 2,500 had little to cheer about in the early rounds as Greaves, 25, absorbed punishment from the sharper, cleaner punches by Tiger.

The 31-year-old champion, who fights out of New York but comes from Amaibo in the province of Orlu in Nigeria, had Greaves helpless in the corner when referee Smith stopped the bout.

Canucks Sign Goalie Lose Two Forwards

Vancouver Canucks, boasting the best winning percentage in the Western Hockey League, yesterday made personnel changes involving four players and expect to be able to announce at least one more acquisition before they return from their Prairie trip.

Canucks finally accomplished their aim of getting a new goalkeeper to replace George Wood. Coming in is Claude Evans, a much travelled, 27-year-old, who played 14 games for Victoria Cougars in the 1953-54 season without conspicuous success.

Wings, has finally ended his lengthy holdout. Boisvert, who played 60 games for Edmonton in 1955-56, is expected to take over from rookie Cesare Maniago.

Bruins Snap Losing Streak Gain 2-2 Tie in Chicago

CHICAGO — Boston's best line scored twice in the last six minutes here last night to give Bruins a 2-2 tie with Chicago Black Hawks and snap their four-game losing streak in the National Hockey League.

Doug Mohns got the first goal at 14:24, on a play with Vic Stasiuk and Johnny Bucyk. Then it was Bucyk scoring at 16:42 with Bronco Horvath and Stasiuk drawing assists.

The comeback kept Chicago out of a second-place tie in the NHL, but ran their unbeaten record at home to 12 games on four ties and eight wins. Bruins, who have yet to win a game on the road this season, have a travelling mark of four ties and eight losses.

Bruins are now just one point behind New York Rangers. Chicago's goals were scored by Murray Balfour and Ron Murphy. Balfour beat Bruce Gamble on a 20-footer later in the first period and Murphy scored with 10 minutes left in the final period.

STRONG BID
Making a strong bid for their first road victory, Bruins poured shots at Glenn Hall in the last two periods and controlled the game. Hall made 28 saves, Gamble 26.

It was the sixth game and the first on the road for Gamble, who has given up 23 goals, won one game, tied one and lost four since replacing Don Simmons in the Boston nets.

'Worth It' Hotel Damage Under $500

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's major hotels took stock of their bruises Wednesday night and came to the conclusion that the Grey Cup classic was a defensive game won handily by police.

An announcement by the managers of eight hotels said: "Total damages to the eight hotels was less than $500. It is a small price to pay for bringing millions of dollars to the city in trade channels here."

The managers of the Castle, Georgia, St. Regis, Grosvenor, Devonshire, Georgian Towers, Ritz and Vancouver Hotels gave full marks to tough defensive line of the police department.

"The exuberance of the milling crowds was kept under admirable control by the police. The wear and tear on the hotels was no more than normal for any large event."

Celts Win Eight in Row

DETROIT (AP)—Boston Celtics roared to their eighth straight victory Wednesday night as they crushed the floundering Detroit Pistons, 128-110, in the second half of an all-east dominated National Basketball Association double-header.

Hal Greer and Larry Costello paced Syracuse Nationals to a 135-126 triumph over the western division leading St. Louis Hawks in the opener.

With Bill Russell hitting for 33 points and Bill Sharman 11, the world champion Celtics shot to a 39-23 lead in the first quarter. Thereafter, they never were in serious trouble as they posted their 14th victory against three losses this season.

In the first game, Greer pumped in 35 points and Costello 30 as Syracuse led virtually all the way in scoring its sixth triumph in 16 games this season.

Maroons Get Tie Against Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Chatham Maroons tied Moscow's Spartak hockey team 3-3 in a hard-fought game at the Sports Palace here Wednesday. The arena was jammed with 12,000 shouting fans and hundreds waited in vain outside for tickets.

Floyd (Butch) Martin, a veteran of Olympic play, scored the tying goal for the Canadians with a hard, short shot in the 14th minute of the third period.

George Aitken, Chatham forward and alternate captain, scored in the first period and defenceman Elmer Skov notched the other in the second.

Accrington Wins Soccer Replay

LONDON (Reuters)—Accrington Stanley beat Mansfield Town 3-0 in a Football Association Cup second round replay Wednesday.

Accrington now will meet Preston North End in the third round at Preston.

In another second round cup match Wednesday, Tranmere Rovers and York City tied 1-1.

But Canadian goalie Harold (Boat) Hurley earned the biggest cheers as he held off the fast attack of the Soviet team time and again. Hurley, who like Martin has played on two Olympic teams, is fast becoming a favorite of the Russian fans.

The Canadian team now has won one game, lost two and tied one in its current Russian tour. It will play another game here and two more in Kiev.

Arena Argument Now Election Issue

Subject of new charges and a new call for a public inquiry, the Memorial Arena situation yesterday also was made a civic election issue.

New criticism of the arena commission's handling of the situation came from commissioner Courtney Haddock in a statement amplifying his views.

WHOLE STORY

The call for a public inquiry came from Ald. Elmer McEwen, who suggested the commission should seek the inquiry so the public could hear the whole story. "The commission, he said, had nothing to hide, and the inquiry should be held because 'I don't think they'll ever get away without it.'"

The situation was made an election issue by aldermanic candidates Charles M. Nelles and Victor Williams, and candidate A. W. Toone also entered the fray with a call for reinstatement of six ex-employees and a full report to council.

BACK ON FEET

Mr. Nelles promised to make his first objective, if elected, council action to set the arena back on its feet. Mr. Williams placed the blame for the situation "initially, secondly and lastly on city council except Ald. McLean."

Mr. Haddock's new attack drew no reply from fellow commissioners, although chairman Frank Mulliner—kept at home by a severe sore throat—said the commission would meet "in the near future" and might then have something to say.

Mr. Haddock said: "The treatment being given to six loyal and conscientious employees with years of service is, in my opinion, completely shocking and grossly unfair, to say the least."

Manager Joseph Dukowski has resigned "and in my opinion rightly so, as under the circumstances he had no other choice, but I feel his resignation should be effective immediately, with three months' severance pay or more if necessary."

We should then reinstate our experienced employees, who are most capable and able to carry on with a 'tight ship' until a new manager is appointed."

● The statements of ex-employees at the commission's closed hearing, "plus the admission of the manager, reflect sad discredit on arena management and commission alike."

● At a meeting of commission and five aldermen called the night before Mr. Haddock was to submit his resignation to council, "the chair was taken by the vice-chairman who, in effect, almost gave an ultimatum to the councilors that they had better express confidence in the commission or the commission would all resign."

● "I feel the city council was very kind in expressing confidence in the commission, and I am sure they did this in the hope we would be able to settle our own affairs. However, I feel their confidence has been sadly misplaced."

● Important staff members "have not had a salary increase in eight years, and the increment of our manager is equivalent over the average of almost 20 per cent of our total profits. I cannot understand how we collected such a loyal and efficient staff."

● The manager was disobedient "in not granting increases in salaries to our staff when instructed to do so by the commission last March" and "in keeping his family (daughter and son-in-law) on staff for two to three weeks, possibly longer, after instructions to discharge them."

Mr. Nelles' statement said "the present ugly situation was caused by the commission council must also share the blame.

COURTNEY HADDOCK
... 'tight ship'

The situation, he said, "can only be cured by council appointing somebody to clear it up. There is no need for an expensive investigation. The arena... needs careful nursing through its trouble, not an autopsy. The difficulty in the office can be cleared up in an hour by proper personnel methods. That Mr. Dukowski... must stay on the job for another three months simply compounds the agony."

Mr. Toone said that as soon as council knew something was wrong it should have asked for a full report.

BUSINESSLIKE

"This is the people's business. They have a right to know the problem and to have the matter cleared up in a businesslike fashion."

Mr. Williams said the commission was the scapegoat for city council. Although the commission was supposed to report to council monthly, he said, council had gone 10 years virtually without reports.

"It's 10 years of city council mismanagement."

'Oh! He Looked Grand'

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 86th birthday at a quiet party Wednesday and with a big cigar clamped jauntily in his bulldog-jaw.

LOOKED GRAND

Churchill broke a small bone in his back two weeks ago when he slipped on a bedroom rug. But a household spokesman said: "He got up and walked to lunch and ate, and oh! he looked grand."

Messenger boys delivered congratulations from world leaders. From Buckingham Palace came a liveried footman with Queen Elizabeth's good wishes. From a humble home in London's bomb-pocked east end came a birthday card addressed only by a newspaper photograph of Churchill pasted on the envelope.

Churchill responded with a formal statement: "I am very grateful to all those who have so kindly sent me messages of good wishes for my health and my 86th birthday."

"There are so many that I regret that I cannot acknowledge them all personally, but I should like to express my warm thanks to the senders for their thought of me, which has given me much pleasure."

NOT THIS TIME

BBC television cameras were set up outside the house and photographers came for what in the past had been a birthday appearance at the door—but not this time.

"Sir Winston would not like to be photographed sitting down," the spokesman said.

HAPPY DAY

Hit of the day was the birthday cake, a frosted cornucopia with candy reproductions of Churchill symbols—books, Nobel prizes, brandy, cigars, naval mementoes, pets and other precious memories.

The spokesman said Churchill "spent a very happy day."

Applauding MPs Send Best Wishes to Churchill

OTTAWA (CP) — An applauding Commons quickly and unanimously passed a motion Wednesday extending congratulations and best wishes to Sir Winston Churchill on his 86th birthday.

The motion was moved by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and seconded by Opposition Leader Pearson.

Canada Told 'Living Beyond Means'

OTTAWA (CP) — Deputy trade minister James Roberts said Wednesday Canada's international payments deficit has reached "alarming proportions" and urged action to reduce the country's huge trade deficit with the U.S.

Mr. Roberts said that, during Canada's rapid post-war expansion, "warnings that we were living beyond our means on borrowed funds, which one day must be repaid, went largely unheeded."

The deputy minister's statement was at variance with a speech last March by his old chief, former trade minister Churchill, succeeded this fall by George Hees.

Mr. Churchill said Canada's international payments deficit and its international debt to foreign investors must be judged in the light of the size of the economy.

He said the international debt is far less of a burden than it used to be and there is little to substantiate the claim that Canadians have been living beyond their means.

Mr. Roberts said Canada's international payments deficit has been "inflated by huge sums to service our national debt," and stands at $17,000,000,000.

Sooke School District

Public to Discuss $329,000 Bylaw

Public meetings will be held Tuesday and Thursday next week to discuss the $329,000 school building bylaw vote Dec. 10 in Sooke school district.

The first meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Milnes Landing High School.

On Thursday at the same time another meeting of ratepayers will be held at Belmont High School.

A spokesman said yesterday candidates seeking election to the school board will be given a chance to speak. Trustees will explain the bylaw and answer questions.

Major item in the referendum will be a $210,000 eight-room addition to Elizabeth Fisher Junior High School on Jacklin Road. The school was opened last May 31, after delays caused by bankruptcy proceedings, and was overcrowded from the first day.

Other large items are a two-room school at Glen Lake, $26,000; an addition at Milnes Landing, $25,000; one additional classroom at Sangster, $7,500, and extensions to Belmont High School gym and auditorium, $10,000.

PARIS (Reuters) — The Senate Wednesday night for the second time rejected President de Gaulle's plan for an independent French nuclear striking force.

Red Cross to Display Stirring Historic Roles

Displays of stirring roles played by Red Cross workers in times of emergency will be seen at a special open house at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Visitors will see demonstrations of artificial respiration, veterans working at arts and crafts, and women's work groups sewing, knitting and quilting.

For the benefit of persons who would give blood occasionally if they only knew their blood was the type required, technical staff of the transfusion service will be on duty to prepare blood types.

60TH YEAR

Although the Canadian Red Cross Society marked its half century of service last year, the Red Cross is in its 60th year in British Columbia.

It started during the Boer War, when a group of Victoria women banded together in 1901 to sew, knit and make first aid supplies under the auspices of the British Red Cross.

Today, B.C. Red Cross Division has 219,075 volunteer members in 93 branches, responsible for 15 important

Flick of Switch May Help Some Old Victorian

A flick of your front porchlight switch tonight may help some lonely, elderly Victorian resident spend his remaining years in comfort at the Kiwanis Villa housing unit.

Money donated during the porchlight drive throughout the Greater Victoria area will go towards a $233,000 winter works project which will provide 52 deserving persons with living accommodation. Each dollar raised tonight will have a cumulative effect on the local economy, say officials of the Victoria Kiwanis Village Society.

Apart from the project itself, it will draw an additional one-third grant from the provincial government, will provide nine months' employment for a number of workmen, will help circulate dollars through the community and will provide the donor with an eligible income tax deduction.

Although a contract has been let and work already started, a spokesman said last night $88,000 is required to complete the job.

Porchlights should be turned on by 6:30 p.m. to indicate to canvassers your willingness to help Victoria's elderly "single persons."

Road Fires Face Ban

Oak Bay police are planning a crackdown on residents who burn leaves on public streets, Reeve George Murdoch said last night.

"The smoke is a traffic hazard, and curbs, heated from the smouldering fires, crack if rain falls," he said.

Hospital Worker A Patient

It was her day off, but Royal Jubilee Hospital telephone switchboard operator Mrs. Jessie Rosemus, 3354 Wishart, ended up at the hospital just the same.

She received a bump on the head and a chest injury in a two-car collision at the Metcosh-Wishart Road intersection about 6:30 p.m. yesterday.

The other car was driven by John L. Fisher of Metcosh, said police. Mrs. Rosemus was taken to hospital by Langford volunteer fire department ambulance.

Hydrofoil Fare Up To $5

Proposed fare to travel between Bellingham and Victoria on the hydrofoil vessel Flying Fish has been increased from $2.50 to $5 one-way, city council was informed yesterday.

B.C. Yacht Brokers Ltd., Victoria, representatives of the hydrofoil ferry company, advised council of the change and asked for its approval. Return fare will be $8.

Start of once-a-day service awaits completion of customs arrangements.

Lack of "frills" in school construction was the theme hammered home by speakers from all levels of government concerned with education at the official opening last night of the $585,000 new Gordon Head Junior High School.

Reeve George Chatterton of Saanich, who officially declared it open, told more than 400 parents in the audience that the school, which first opened its doors three months ago, was only "adequate."

CONTROVERSY

"There might be controversy over how the money to build this school was raised," said Mr. Chatterton. "And the type of curriculum to be followed is also open to discussion."

The reeve said: "These arguments are healthy and good for education. But on one point there should be no controversy—that is on the value of education."

"Education is probably our major resource in Canada today and anything whatever that threatens to jeopardize our school system bears close examination."

FUNCTIONAL

G. W. Graham, assistant superintendent of administration for the department of education, described the school as "not extravagant, but functional."

W. C. Gelling, chairman of Greater Victoria school board, said the completed costs of $11.15 per square foot compared favorably with costs of building a home.

Trustee R. H. Reeve, chairman of the board's building and grounds committee, said he found it "inconceivable that anyone would obstruct the presentation to the community of such a school as this one."

GET OUT

Without making direct reference to the school building bylaw planned for School District 61 next March, Mr. Reeve urged all parents to get out and vote on education questions. He added: "I always feel that if enough people turn out the bylaw will pass."

Principal J. W. Downard told the audience the large stage of the auditorium where they were seated has the same dimensions and facilities as a classroom including a sliding, soundproof partition to block off the proscenium arch.

The stage is now used for classes from 8 a.m. until noon, the principal added, and soon will be in daily use until 5 p.m.

Sam Lane Seeks Seat on Council

Sam Lane, leading representative of the tourist industry in Victoria, announced last night that he will run for city council.

His entry into the race for four council seats brings the number of announced candidates to 10.

Finally swayed, he said, by a Colonist editorial calling on energetic businessmen to offer themselves for council, he decided to run because of the increasing importance of the tourist industry.

The Manchester-born RAF veteran and his Victoria-born wife are proprietors of The Old England Inn.

In his 14 years in Victoria Mr. Lane has been a leader in tourist trade activities. He is a past-president of the Esqui-

Total Down

November Slightly Sunnier

The month of November had slightly more sunshine than in past years but the sunshine total so far this year is still down by 37.9 hours.

There were 82.3 hours of sunshine in November, 3.8 hours more than normal and the yearly total now stands at 2,112.8 hours.

Average temperature was 45.2 degrees. A maximum of 53.7 degrees was recorded Nov. 5 and a minimum of 36 on Nov. 27.

A trace of snow fell Nov. 22 and again Nov. 24. There were 16 days of measurable precipitation in which 3.55 inches were recorded. Total yearly rainfall to date is 20.3 inches, down .99-inch from past years.

Firehall Show Helps Needy

A piano accordion concert will be sponsored Friday evening by the Langford volunteer fire department, to help provide Christmas hampers for needy families in the district—an annual undertaking of the volunteers.

Amateur performers of Greater Victoria will be featured in the concert, to start at 7:30 p.m. in the firehall, 716 Goldstream. There will be a silver collection.

"GROOS ROOTS" CAMPAIGN: Captain David W. Groos, Liberal candidate in the coming Esquimalt-Saanich by-election, says he is glad the subject of his membership in the Victoria Progressive Conservative Association has come out into the open.

It was reported here yesterday that Capt. Groos had been referred to at his nominating convention as a long-term Liberal, yet still a card-carrying member of the Tory branch.

Capt. Groos said he attended a Conservative meeting, and took out a membership so he could support a friend in nomination for the provincial election, and also attended a Social Credit meeting as part of his political education.

He was asked by the column yesterday if he hadn't also attended meetings of the Tory organizational committee during the provincial campaign. "I wouldn't know if it was an organizing committee or not," replied the captain.

Lack of Money Blamed; May Be Resumed Later

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Victoria's Thunderbird Park totem-carving project will come to an end on Dec. 31—but it may be resumed in April.

Mungo Martin, 82-year-old Kwakwaka'wakw Indian master carver and guardian of native songs and stories, received notice yesterday.

ALSO TOLD

Also given notice was Henry Hunt, Mungo Martin's 37-year-old grandson-in-law, who has learned the carving art from Mungo and worked with him fashioning totems, masks and vessels in the ancient style.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson, under whose department the provincial museum and the carving project are administered, promised to issue a statement later.

RECEIVED NOTICE

Mr. Martin and Mr. Hunt received the following notice from Dr. G. Clifford Carl, director of the provincial museum: "I regret to inform you that the current totem pole project in Thunderbird Park will have to terminate by the end of December, 1960, until more funds are available after April, 1961."

"As you know, when the project was started in 1952, sufficient funds were provided to employ two carvers all year round, and the program was continued without interruption until 1956, when we were forced to stop for lack of money."

"In this and the following year the budget allowed us was scarcely enough to finance nine months' operation each year."

"However, we were able to keep you employed by outside contracts. In the last two years for example, we received orders from the B.C. Centennial Committee, the Vancouver Centennial Committee, and the Boy Scout Association, which kept the program going all year round.

FORCED TO CLOSE

"This year, however, we have no such outside contracts. As no supplemental grants are available, we are forced to close the project for the time being. We plan to resume carving next season, when money should be available again."

"We sincerely hope you will be available as a carver."

Henry Hunt, who has a wife and 12 children to support, plans to seek other work, at least for the time being.

"If I get a steady job after the work is through here, I won't come back," he said. His 18-year-old son Tony has been learning the art in his spare time. Mrs. Hunt, Mungo Martin's granddaughter, has also taken part in the project.

Share Cost City Asked

Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday asked the city to share the cost of lighted Christmas trees in tubs to be used to decorate some downtown sidewalks this year.

In the past, the city has contributed $750 toward holly baskets which will be discontinued.

Special Time Set For Dairy Hearing

Special trial time—Friday, Dec. 9 at 3 p.m.—has been set in Saanich police court in the case of Henry Robinson, manager of the Milky Way Dairy, 815 Beckwith, charged with refusing entrance of a milk inspector to his dairy.

Saanich court is normally held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 p.m.

When defence counsel Alan Macfarlane entered a plea of not guilty on behalf of his client this week, the special date was fixed because of busy court lists.

Laid under the Milk Industry Act, the charge alleges that Robinson refused entry to Peter Regehr, a milk inspector for the department of agriculture.

Capt. Groos, in summary: "I feel that Mr. Eisenhower went through the same sort of thing when he approached political life."

HELPING HAND: New military aide to Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes is Major Robert Frost, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, who is stationed at Work Point.

Maj. Frost is a son of Charles Sydney Frost, M.C., president of The Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto and scion of an old Nova Scotia family.

The major's father won his Military Cross with the Royal DIFFERENT ROLE: John Wood, research assistant to CCF leader Robert Strachan, says he wasn't acting in this capacity when he issued a statement saying the decision of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Government Employees' Association to disaffiliate with Victoria Labor Council was unconstitutional.

He wanted to make it plain, he said, that he was speaking as a member of the association for the past eight years and a former president of the New Denver branch.

SEATS GALORE: The staff must have outnumbered the patrons at the late showing of the Oscar Wilde movie at the Royal Theatre Tuesday night.

But it didn't faze the doorman who, when asked if there were some good seats left upstairs, replied: "I think there are a few, sir."

There were only nine or so patrons in the whole theatre.

Gay Displays At Festival

The spirit of traditional Christmas pervaded the Georgian Lounge and hall in the Empress Hotel yesterday for the Annual Festival of Christmas Decorations. The pungent odor of sweet-smelling pine, candy canes, fir branches and flowers made Christmas — 25 days away — seem even closer.

An innovation this year was the gift wrapping bar, where papers, ribbons and wrapping needs of all kinds were sold.

The five classes were loaded with entries, and the lounge and hall were glistening with all the sparkle of Christmas. A students' section was also well represented.

Class A miniature trees displayed in the centre of the lounge included a pampas grass tree in soft, feathery grey decorated with brilliant, miniature ornaments. An Oriental flavor was seen in the silver and fuchsia colored branch tree. Multi-colored tree balls clustered around a pretty branch made a lovely touch of gaiety and in another display tiny elves, atop a ladder or asleep on the ground, had their Christmas around a little tree decorated with tiny cones and red berries.

TRADITIONAL

Class B door displays tended to be traditional, with much attention focused on around a gold door centred with a puff of red ribbon and a medallion spray of holly and berries. Red doors with fruit and cones massed on it, a green door with a golden wreath of cones, nuts and holly and a green door decorated with a tree of branches with ropes of wrapped candy—they were all admired.

POPULAR

Small and large table centrepieces in Classes C(a) and C(b) were very popular. Masses of red candles and red poinsettias with accents of red and gold ropes of baubles centred a cream lace cloth. On a red net cloth appliqued with felt and sequins was centred a cluster of eight red goblets holding white candles and tiny Christmas balls on a red cloth. Enormous fir cones and white-sprayed greenery, green and gold baubles and a green bow formed the centerpiece on a green cloth. On an ecru lace cloth was centred an arrangement of gold Christmas balls, gilt holly, greenery and camel-colored tapers. Midnight blue and silver caught the attention of visitors at another centerpiece where silvered blue candles in silver holders, silver and blue leaves, bells and balls had a blue cloth background.

Novelty displays, Class E, had many entries. One was of green foliage and baubles, a silver branch and a white

GIFT WRAPPED

Class F, gift wrapped packages showed us how to wrap everything from Christmas puddings to bottles. A saucy jack-in-the-box was wrapping for a bottle, while a gold-paper covering of a star-shaped tin, topped with little angles, would hold a pudding. Simple red brocade paper accented with golden bells and bow was very elegant, and just the thing for the youngsters was a clown in red and green with a pom-pom hat. A blue box with silver snowflakes and silver cord was very romantic, indeed. White paper, green satin paper and a spray of hand-made, miniature roses in greenery was also stunning.

BARK SCROLL

Class D, mantelpiece displays had a very interesting entry, an Indian version of the Nativity with a bark scroll telling the Christmas story, a bark teepee and Mary, Joseph and the Child in Indian dress. A large snowman with top hat sprigged with holly and a real wool scarf sits atop another mantelpiece and tiny elves play in the snow around him. Feit stocking hang on the mantel. A prayer book surrounded by filmy angel-hair decorates another mantel which also has tiny white angels holding white tapers and a white pedestal vase holding Christmas roses.

In the students' display a candy house, a gingerbread house and a popcorn tree were youthful and imaginative. A fine display included holly, candles, a sheet of Christmas music and a Bible centring a table.

The affair was sponsored by the Family and Children's Service. Convenor Mrs. Ruth Reeve, and co-conveners, Mrs. Kenneth Young. Tickets on a muskrat jacket to be drawn at Spencerhouse on Dec. 14 were sold by Mrs. Gordon Hunter; ticket sales at door: Mrs. T. P. Holmes; entries, Mrs. R. R. Wilde; publicity, Mrs. R. Stevenson; Choose-A-Gift-Tree, Mrs. Hubin and Mrs. Hubert.

CATHEDRAL

MIZPAH

Mizpah Court No. 2, Order of Amaranth will hold their annual bazaar in the K of P Hall, Cormorant Street Saturday, Dec. 3 at 2 to 4 p.m.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I work in a small factory and my machine is right on the aisle. This is a pretty special spot because I get to smile and say hello to everyone who passes.

A few months ago a smooth-looking foreman was transferred to this department. He passes our section several times a day and often stops for a few minutes and talks to me. Lately he's gotten into the habit of offering me peanuts. He's not married and neither am I. Do you think this thing about the peanuts means anything? Please tell me how I can get him to ask me out. — IRISH EYES

Dear Irish: I knew a very nice man who used to buy peanuts for the monkeys at Lincoln Park Zoo every day for years. So far as I know he never asked any of them out. Have a small, informal get-together at your home and include Peanut. If he doesn't ask you out after that there's not much more you can do. — * * *

Dear Ann Landers: I know you can't help us, but if you print this letter it might save others from being gypped.

We signed up for a mail-order art course for our son. It cost us $415. They sent us about $25 worth of art supplies. The boy mailed in three lessons and decided he didn't like the course. We had to pay the full amount while our kids went without milk and shoes. Don't suggest we see a lawyer. There's nothing we can do to get our money back. We tried. Don't you think American citizens should be protected against such rackets? What is a government for anyway? We are really disappointed in Uncle Sam. — REALLY TOOK

Dear Took: Why take it out on Uncle Sam? The government can't put brains in your head when you've got oatmeal up there.

Parents who shell out $415 on a mail-order art course when they haven't got milk and shoe money are plain daffy.

Some mail-order courses are perfectly OK and offer real opportunities for people who can't attend school. Others are two steps ahead of the sheriff.

Dear Ann: I'm a 16-year-old girl and as long as I can remember I've had wild crushes on men. I don't give a hoot

Canadian Artists Join Old Masters

Paintings by a record number of Canadian artists are featured on this year's Christmas cards.

They range from winter scenes by such noted painters as Manly MacDonald and Paul Rodrick to colorful bouquets of flowers by Emily Sartain. "While we used the works of eight prominent artists from this country last year, we are now publishing 16 and the number will probably be increased again next year," said the firm's president.

As well as MacDonald, Rodrick and Miss Sartain, these include Harold McCrea, H. McRae Miller, Frank Panabaker, Roland Gissing, A. Sheriff, Scott, Franz Johnston, William Winter, Tom Roberts, Cornelius Kriehoff, F. S. Coburn, Fred Bridden, H. H. Leeming and Earl Bailly.

Adding a unique touch to the Christmas card scene this year are greetings featuring fine reproductions of the world's greatest paintings.

These include the works of such masters as Rembrandt, Van Dyck, Henri Matisse, Vincent Van Gogh, Leonardo Da Vinci, John Constable, El Greco and Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec.

Verses by such renowned men of letters as Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, James Metcalfe, Edgar Guest, and Ogden Nash are also featured. Nash mixes humor with philosophy to come up with such rhyming gems as this:

Artificial ivy, artificial holly,
Artificial evergreens make me melancholy.
A child of two could tell you what the end of this is — Artificial mistletoe!

Artificial kisses! In this artificial world — one thing at least is real. When I wish you Merry Christmas It's exactly what I feel.

An added touch of elegance has been added to many cards through gold and silver embossing and the use of parchment, tapestry and leather-finished papers.

MR. AND MRS. R. DONALD FRASER

A 1960 Sea Saga

Victoria Couple Travels 1,200 Miles on 43-Ft. Yacht

By TERRY FRENCH

For one who had never sailed before, Mrs. R. Donald Fraser developed remarkable sea legs recently on a modern day adventure trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser arrived back in Victoria this week after being away since summer. They flew home from Lisbon, Portugal, after a sea trip that was a small sea saga in their lives.

Mr. Fraser left Victoria Aug. 1 for Amsterdam, from where he went to Briskens, near the Hook of Holland, to join a neighbor Mr. N. R. Ramsay of Ten Mile Point. There they picked up Mr. Ramsay's 43-foot sloop-rigged yacht and sailed up the coast of Holland and France and through the Dutch canals before starting out on the main part of their journey home. They then crossed the North Sea to England, sailed past Beachy Head and into Cowes on the Isle of Wight, where Mrs. Fraser joined the crew.

ON CONTINENT
Up until this time, Mrs. Fraser, who left Victoria July 1, had been travelling on the continent with her daughter, Miss Monica Fraser. Also with them for part of their trip was

Additions Help Keep Stuffing

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Whether you make your own stuffing for the holiday turkey or buy ready-prepared packaged stuffing, you can add chopped cranberries, chopped dried apricots, raisins or orange juice to improve the keeping quality of the mixture.

A study at the Cornell Experiment Station showed these ingredients helped stuffing keep because of the acidity they added to the mixture.

But even with the additions, stuffing should be refrigerated from the time it is made until it is put into the bird—just before the turkey is put into the oven.

If a very large quantity of stuffing is to be made for a big bird, store it in two or more containers in the refrigerator. Stuffing chills faster in smaller quantities.

In large quantity food preparation, the Cornell report said, it is good practice to roast poultry unstuffed and to bake stuffing separately in a shallow pan.

THE ENGLISH SWEET SHOP

"The Sweetest Shop in Town"

In the 100 Block Yates St.
Near the Giant Christmas Tree

Miss Sally Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ian Simpson of Victoria. She and Monica had just completed a year at Grenoble University in France where they were studying languages.

6,000 MILES
In the Fraser's new Renault, the trio travelled 6,000 miles visiting such places as Biarritz, Lourdes, Perpignan, Lyons, Grenoble and Nice, the south of Spain and many towns along the way. Paris was stopping place several times during the trip. In France, they also met Sally's brother, Mr. Hamish Simpson, and later, Mrs. Fraser's sister-in-law from England.

After meeting in Cowes, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser toured England before returning to the boat and starting on a really thrilling part of the trip.

HIT STORM
From Cowes, they sailed to Weymouth and then across the Bay of Biscay in a storm—force 10 gale—just 2 points below hurricane force.

"It was rather unnerving to hear the weather report come through telling us that strong winds were moving into the area, and realizing we were right in the middle of it all. Being 200 miles off-shore, there was nothing to do but to ride it out," they explained. The crossing took 10½ days. "There were waves 40 feet high!" Mrs. Fraser recalls.

Then, as through the rest of the trip, Mrs. Fraser, a novice at sailing, experienced no seasickness at all—a remarkable feat under any circumstances.

Mr. Fraser calculated that he had travelled 1,200 miles on the yacht.

NEXT SUMMER
Mr. Ramsay and crew plan to sail from Lisbon to the Canary Islands, the Bartolome, through Panama and up the coast, arriving some time next summer.

The more hazardous parts of the Fraser's trip has only added to the spice of it all, and both would love to be setting out again.

WARM WINDS
Very tanned and healthy, they aren't quite acclimated to Victoria yet, having so recently been swimming on the Riviera and basking in warmth. They said that even on the last part of the sail across the Bay, in storm or calm, the winds and the water were warm.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser are at present house guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Nicolls, 3805 Tudor Road. Their daughter, Miss Monica Fraser, who returned to Victoria last month, is guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Francis, 2346 Windsor Road. The family will return to their own home on Tudor Road in February.

Organists' Dinner

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Milburn, 1530 Ash Road, Gordon Head will host the annual Christmas dinner meeting of the Victoria Chapter of the Royal Canadian College of Organists Saturday, Dec. 3, at 7 p.m. Following the turkey dinner, films will be shown, including the story of Dr. Healey Willan, Canada's famous musician and composer. Among guests will be chairman of the Local Chapter, Mr. Gordon Britton, and secretary, Mr. J. Ingram Smith.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Boulter, 2834 Knotty Pine, announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Frieda Patricia, to Mr. Michael Frederick Cross, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Cross, Gabriola Island, B.C. The wedding date will be announced later.

60th Wedding Anniversary

Messages of congratulations and good wishes from Her Majesty, the Queen, and Prime Minister Diefenbaker as well as from many friends and relatives were extended to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jenner on the occasion of their Diamond Wedding Anniversary. A family dinner was held in a private dining room at the Monterey Restaurant on Saturday evening. The only member of the family not present was a grandson, Bill Gosling, who is teaching at Squamish.

The long dining table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, made by their eldest daughter, Mrs. George Hearn, and appropriately iced by their youngest daughter, Miss Noni Jenner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenner were married in the Bethel Chapel in Lowestoft, Suffolk, England, on November 26, 1900. They migrated to Canada a few years later and in 1912 moved to Victoria where they have lived ever since.

Their family of five children, nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren all live in the Greater Victoria area.

The Society for the Preservation and Maintenance of Craigdarroch Castle.

How to Save Money On Rug Cleaning!

The biggest saving in having your rug professionally cleaned is the years of extra life your valuable rug will give. Only professional "deep cleaning" as done by the people at the CARPETORIUM, 1219 Wharf Street, will remove those deep-down gritty particles that, day-by-day, are cutting your rug to pieces! There's a further saving when you phone the CARPETORIUM, EV 3-2861, for your FREE estimate. They will be glad to tell about the big 20% CASH-AND-CARRY DISCOUNT! It's easy to carry even a $12 rug in the family car and bringing it in to the CARPETORIUM on Wharf will save you real money. Service is prompt and, with your 20% DISCOUNT, the cost is very low indeed! Telephone the CARPETORIUM today—EV 3-2861.

Annual meeting of the society, formed a year ago, will be Saturday afternoon, Dec. 10, at 3.30 p.m. at "The Priory," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan, 729 Pemberton Road.

Special guest will be Mrs. F. G. Hood, whose father, the late Hon. E. G. Prior, one-time premier and lieutenant-governor of B.C., built "The Priory" in the 1880's, making it one of Victoria's historic homes. Mrs. Hood is a granddaughter of Hon. John Work of "Hillside Farm," a prominent figure here a century ago.

The tea committee is composed of Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan, Miss Lucie Woodrow, Mrs. Kenneth C. Drury, Miss Inez Mitchell, Miss Geneva Lent and Mrs. James Badni.

Christmas calls for colorful salads, and what could be better than this holiday trio? Spiced peach cranberry ring, tart cranberry mold and individual Christmas fruit tower are ideal for either dinner or luncheon.

What's Cooking!

Holiday Salads Refreshing

For a refreshing note at Christmas, try one of this trio of holiday salads.

SPICED PEACH CRANBERRY RING

Six canned or home-preserved peach halves with syrup, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, 1 1/2-inch cinnamon stick, 1/4 cup white vinegar, 1 package (3 ounces) lemon flavored gelatin, 1 cup fresh cranberries, 1/2 medium orange unpeeled, seeded.

Drain peaches. Measure syrup; add enough water to make 2 cups. Stir in spices and vinegar; simmer 10 minutes. Add peaches; simmer five minutes. Remove peaches; place cut side up in 1-quart ring mold. Strain syrup; add to gelatin; stir until dissolved. Pour 1/4 of mixture over peaches; chill until firm. Meanwhile put cranberries and orange through fine blade of food chopper; add to remaining peach syrup; cool. Pour over firm peach layer; chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Serve mayonnaise or salad dressing in cup in centre of ring. Makes six servings.

TART CRANBERRY MOLD

One-and-one-half cups raw cranberries, 6 sweet gherkins or 1/4 cup chopped sweet pickles, 1/2 medium orange, seeded, unpeeled, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 package (3 ounces) lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Put cranberries, pickles and orange through fine blade of food chopper twice; sprinkle with sugar. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; chill until partially set; combine with cranberry mixture. Gently fold in whipped cream. Pour into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce or endive. Makes six to eight servings.

An attractive individual salad for dinner or a holiday luncheon is the Christmas Fruit Tower. Arrange bright green endive or lettuce on a salad plate. In the centre place a well drained pineapple slice.

Spread the pineapple with a layer of cottage cheese; top this with a slice of cranberry sauce, another layer of cheese, and a well drained peach half, cut side down. Garnish with a maraschino cherry poinsettia.

If you'd like to serve this as a main dish salad, you can arrange alternate slices of orange and grapefruit sections around the base of the salad. Serve toasted muffins or brown bread sandwiches as accompaniments.

Oh yes, we can't forget the dressing. We suggest either a Fruit French Dressing or a Honey French Dressing.

FRUIT FRENCH DRESSING

Two tablespoons vinegar, 1/4 cup salad oil, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons orange juice. Combine ingredients. Shake vigorously. Chill. Shake before serving. Makes 1/2 cup.

HONEY FRENCH DRESSING

Two tablespoons vinegar, 1/4 cup salad oil, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 4 teaspoons honey. Combine ingredients. Shake vigorously. Chill. Shake before serving. Makes 1/2 cup.

ST. PETER'S

The WA of St. Peter's Church, Lake Hill, will hold a drive for clothing for refugees on Wednesday, Dec. 7 from 11.15 to 3 p.m. in the church hall. Good, clean clothing with at least six months' wear is needed urgently. No shoes, hats or fancy clothing.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

By HELEN R. HEWSON

When evening comes, thousands of Canadian parents step out for a few hours, secure in the knowledge that their little ones are in the care of a competent baby-sitter.

Today very few homes have built-in baby care service of grandma or a maiden aunt, and parents turn thankfully to the increasing numbers of teen-agers who are being trained in the special baby-sitting courses given in some communities.

Community organizations and provincial departments of health have helped to plan and promote the courses. Saskatchewan began its program five years ago.

The courses have been conducted by church groups, women's organizations, Girl Guides and some of the high schools.

The New Brunswick Department of Health and Social Services, in conjunction with the Red Cross Society, held its first baby-sitting course this spring. This fall the course is being given in some of the high school home economics departments.

The courses are a series of six planned discussions aimed at developing attitudes as well as giving information. The discussion leaders are public health nurses, nursing psychologists and safety experts.

Sir Henry Cole, an Englishman, is credited with creating the first Christmas card in 1843.

Plan Family Party

La Sertoma Club will meet on Monday, Dec. 5, at 7.30 p.m. at the home of the president, Mrs. Arthur Ousman, 3908 Scolton Road.

Members enjoyed a box supper held recently at the home of Mrs. Dave Bayliss, 581 O'Connell St.

On Dec. 18 from 3.30 to 5 p.m. a Sertoma family party will be held at the home of Mrs. F. A. Robinson, 3110 Exeter Road. Ten special little guests have been invited.

Gerber Strained and Junior Meat Dinners combine heaps of savory meat with succulent garden vegetables for just about the most mouth-watering flavour imaginable. Nutritionally speaking, they're high in protein and provide the important B-vitamin, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin. Veal, Beef, Chicken, Turkey, Liver and Bacon, Chicken Rice and Beef Noodle. Made in Canada, especially for Canadian babies.

3 Gerber Meats for Babies

Tempting, tasty, terrific with body-building protein to spare. That's the good word on Gerber Strained and Junior Meats. Only selected, government-inspected Canadian meats are used. Careful processing removes most of the fat and tissue for easy digestibility. Careful cooking preserves the utmost in nutritive values. All are 100% pure meat, with just enough broth to bring out flavours, smooth the texture. Beef, Veal, Chicken.

Nigger-Lover Boo We Hate You! Mothers Cat-Call

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Federal judges knocked down Louisiana's legal roadblocks to school integration Wednesday but angry housewives kept up their stubborn school blockade.

CROWDS GREW

Crowds around two integrated New Orleans public schools grew during the day and tension mounted.

Police escorted one mother and her child into William Frantz school.

Throughout the morning the cat-calling mothers visited the home of Rev. Lloyd Foreman, whose five-year-old daughter continues to attend kindergarten.

PUSHED BACK

Police pushed them back to an adjoining yard, where they sang in rough rhythm this verse:

"Nigger lover, nigger lover, nigger lover, boo.
"We hate niggers and we hate you."

The boycott of the integrated schools tightened, leaving the four six-year-old Negro girls virtually in segregation for the third day this week. Only two white girls attended William Frantz; there were none at McDonogh No. 19 school.

Against this background of public tension, three federal judges ordered integration to proceed as decreed by U.S. district court.

No. 2,000,000

Canada's 2,000,000th immigrant, Danish interior decorator Anette Toft, 16, will be welcomed by federal officials and her father David, 42, when she arrives in Quebec City aboard a liner Monday. With her will be her mother and brother; Mr. Toft plans to set up a dental technician's business in Calgary.

Four Men Confess Malahat Theft Bid

Four men were remanded in Colwood police court yesterday for probation reports and sentence after pleading guilty to a joint charge of breaking and entering with intent to steal.

Robert Allister Borgal, 723 Yates; Albert L. Jenik, 1119 Thurlow, and Robert Charles Jackson and Donald Richard Nelson, both of no fixed address, were charged after a break-in Nov. 15-16 at a Malahat service station.

Joseph Guraly, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to possession of two stolen tires. Sentence was suspended.

Frederick Morry, 723 Yates, was sentenced to two years in prison by Magistrate William Oster in city police court for a Government Street break-and-entry and theft Nov. 24. Morry, 21, and Patricia Joseph, 19, had pleaded guilty. The girl Tuesday was given a two-month sentence.

Disclosure of two previous convictions for breaking and entering contributed to his stiff sentence.

Fine of $300 was levied in city court on Margaret Smith, 409 Dunedin, after a plea to keeping liquor for sale there. Const. Peter Voth told court he went to the house in plain clothes and purchased a bottle of beer for 40 cents.

Pleading guilty to being a minor in possession of liquor, George Stilwell, 18, of 3825 Carey, was fined $20. He was checked as he left a liquor store where he bought six bottles of beer.

Frank Page of Sooke was fined $200 in Colwood court after pleading guilty to impaired driving.

British Jurists Protest Police 'Psychology'

LONDON (Reuters)—A group of British legal experts protested Wednesday against the increasing use of "modern psychological means" of interrogations by police forces throughout the world. A committee representing the British section of the International Commission of Jurists, preparing a report for a British royal commission, also protested against police bluffs such as pretending a man who had not been arrested is not free to leave the station.

Ceylonese Seethe Over School Grab

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UPI)—Tension mounted Wednesday in Ceylon on the eve of the nationalization of schools run by religious denominations.

Two thousand five hundred schools run by religious groups, mostly Christian, will be taken over by the state under a special act passed last month by parliament.

In Ceylon's predominantly Christian areas along the western coast, many parents have moved into schools to protest the government's action and are refusing to budge.

The government had planned to close all schools from today for the Christmas vacation.

More than 1,000 schoolboys and girls, most of them wearing black ties and black arm bands, defied a government ban and marched into Colombo City to hold a protest meeting. Police dispersed them.

Throughout Ceylon, police and army regulars and volunteers were placed on stand-by duty. Armed police units maintained 24-hour patrols at likely trouble spots.

Dentist Loses $25 to Thief

Delay Asked In Car Tax

OTTAWA (CP)—A Conservative backbencher asked the government Wednesday to delay imposing higher import valuations for tax purposes on British and European automobiles until the royal commission on the automotive industry presents its report. The new policy is to go into effect today.

Bennett Opposes Permanent Body

QUEBEC (CP)—B.C.'s Premier Bennett said Wednesday he is not in favor of setting up a permanent secretariat as an instrument of co-operation among the provinces.

He said on his arrival here for a two-day interprovincial conference that he would prefer "some looser arrangement."

The conference, called by Premier Lesage of Quebec, is to hear a Quebec proposal for the establishment of a permanent council of provincial governments and the organization of a secretariat to deal with provincial affairs.

"I should like to have a series of free and easy meetings among the premiers, just the premiers, with a few of their aides and ministers. It would be good if this could become a regular practice."

Mr. Bennett said building unity was a responsibility of the provinces because confederation was their creation.

Anything more formal or institutionalized than periodic premier's conferences would be restrictive.

However, his position on the secretariat was not inflexible and he wanted to hear what the other provinces had to say.

Diver Fights Dead Fish to Save Ship

Diver Jack Daley plunged into tons of dead herring in the flooded aft compartment of a Vancouver fishpacker which was in danger of sinking off Trial Island when its cargo shifted in raging seas late yesterday.

While the tug was battling the high winds and rough seas, the crew of the fishpacker was able to manoeuvre the vessel into calm waters in the lee of Trial Island. There, a bulky seine net and other gear was transferred to a passing fish-to keep the pump operating. Temporary repairs were made on the spot and the crippled packer was escorted by the JTB tug into the Inner Harbor late last night. It was reported to have suffered interior structural damage.

Police Belief

Stolen Loot Sent East

VANCOUVER (CP)—City police said Wednesday they believe a country-wide theft ring is indicated by a series of burglaries here recently in which loot has totalled $50,000.

Stewardship Rally Out

For the first time in almost 50 years Oak Bay council this year will not hold a "stewardship" meeting to report on the year's progress to ratepayers. "The meeting is usually held a week before the annual elections," Reeve George Murdoch said last night. "Each year less and less persons have attended."

Support for Party Ruled Out by Union

Direct political support for any political party has been ruled out by membership of the Victoria Automotive Maintenance Workers' Union, Local 151, a spokesman said yesterday. "The decision—by 'almost unanimous' vote of members—followed an investigation of published statements by the union's business agent Syd G. Gardner, charging that Canadian Labor Congress was forcing small unions to 'toe the political line.'"

A statement signed by local president Reg Gerrard and treasurer Colin J. Lamont said Mr. Gardner was "orally censured" by members at a general meeting held Nov. 23 for releasing a statement without authorization from the union.

Esquimalt Challenges City 'Mile 0' Claim

Look forward to a friendly fight between Victoria and Esquimalt.

Victoria has a "Mile 0, Trans-Canada Highway" sign near the foot of Douglas.

Esquimalt, Reeve A. C. Wurtele said Wednesday, is preparing to challenge that claim.

The municipality, he said, plans to erect a sign on Esquimalt Road near the Maritime Museum of B.C. proclaiming that this is the end of the Trans-Canada Highway.

Building Dollar Value Record for Victoria

November offered some cheer for Greater Victoria in the building line.

Saanich construction picked up to make the month the second best so far this year, and Victoria was assured of an all-time record in dollar value for the year.

The city issued 504 building permits, for construction valued at $604,406, compared with 656 permits in November last year with a value of $367,539.

November permits brought the totals for the first 11 months of 1960 to 5,984 permits and $8,950,596, compared with 6,530 and $7,992,935 in the same time last year.

Largest single permit in November, $204,910, was for the Kiwanis Villa for elderly citizens.

Saanich issued 91 permits for a total of $507,674, including 38 for dwellings with a value of $471,700. Previous November totals were 85 permits for $1,040,483, including 41 dwellings at $511,500.

In the first 11 months of 1960, Saanich issued 878 permits valued at $6,029,424, including 345 permits for dwellings valued at $4,149,400. In the same period of 1959, it issued 1,095 permits for $9,034,912, including 610 for dwellings worth $7,042,760.

Train Robbers Net Thousands

LONDON (Reuters)—Train robbers are believed to have netted thousands of pounds when they raided a train bound for London from the south coast Tuesday night.

The gang bound and gagged a guard when the train halted at a light—believed to have been short-circuited by accomplices to make it red—and flung out mailbags onto the track.

Australian rice production in 1959 reached 130,000 tons, of which 70 per cent was exported.

German Might

'Threat'

Satellites

Fear of a renewal of German power is keeping Iron Curtain countries together, Prof. C. S. Burchill said last night.

The Royal Roads economics professor told a meeting of the English-Speaking Union that Czechoslovakia and Russia had different systems of government, but were held together by a common fear of Germany.

He said free world newspapers were forbidden in Russia because Russia did not want to awaken a desire in her people for consumer goods.

But free world ideology is available to Russian people in book form, he said.

Nanaimo Flies High

By ALEC MERRIMAN

Nanaimo, which before the Second World War ranked as one of the shabbiest communities on Vancouver Island, is now becoming a district of fine homes and residential areas.

Before the war hardly a house in Nanaimo was even painted. Then the coal-mining industry, which had made the city, folded and Nanaimo, instead of becoming a ghost town, forged ahead, capitalizing on its many other amenities.

COMMERCIAL HUB

Nanaimo concentrated on making itself the "hub" of the island and in fact became a wholesale, distribution and manufacturing centre serving all but the Victoria area.

Nanaimites, imbued with enthusiasm and a determination to see their city grow strong and healthy, have worked tirelessly towards that end. Some optimists freely forecast that Nanaimo will some day surpass Victoria in size.

POPULATION TRIPLED

Nanaimo's population tripled in the 1950's—there is now a population of 17,000 inside the city limits; 27,700 within a trading circle of five miles, and a trading population of 47,000 on Fridays and Saturdays when residents from surrounding villages come to shop.

Provincial government statisticians have estimated that in the 1960's Nanaimo will increase its population by two-thirds... twice the expected provincial average.

Where are these people going to live? Nanaimo city itself is only 2.9 square miles and city building inspector Ben Boers points out there are only 106 readily available home and commercial building lots left in Nanaimo City proper.

Apartment dwellings will go up... up to six storeys in a new bylaw, instead of three storeys under the old bylaw.

UP IN AIR

"By forcing buildings up in the air we will make available more area for parking and gardens... we hope to see tall apartments in the middle of new gardens," Mr. Boers says. In home building the trend is to the districts north of the city where a score of new subdivisions are springing up.

The trend is for larger and much finer homes.

FLOOR SPACE

Seven years ago the average Nanaimo home had a floor space of between 800 and 1,000 feet. Now they are spacious 1,200 to 1,400 square foot homes and most have a basement and two bathrooms. Located in subdivisions with wide streets and fine views, most Nanaimo homes have a view of the sea.

Costs of homes have risen over the years. In 1950, average cost of a Nanaimo home was $5,000, this rose in 1955 to $8,300 and in 1959 to $11,400.

SOME BUILDING

Although most of the building has been to the north of the city, there has been some home building to the south and the Harewood Improvement District to the southwest has been building up for years.

Owners of older-type homes have had an improvement blitz in the last seven years and now there is only the odd unpainted home left in Nanaimo.

2,239 HOMES

During the last 10 years, 2,239 homes were built in the Nanaimo area at a value of $18,915,340. At a density of 3.6 people per house, this represents an increase of more than 8,000 people.

While real estate business has flourished in Nanaimo it has been highly competitive and realtors have been hard-pressed to outdo each other in their offerings of subdivision developments. Nanaimo is a nice place to live and has plenty to offer residents. Homeowners can afford to be fussy... and are. To sell lots, a realtor must offer something special in a subdivision—a view, a lake, sea-frontage, golf course, or sylvan setting.

WIDE CHOICE

Home builders have a wide choice of subdivisions.

Long Lake Park at Wellington, about four miles north of Nanaimo City, has 250 lots, some of which are already being built upon, and will include an artificial lake as well as adjacent Long Lake. Lots are selling at $850-$10 down and $10 a month.

NEW GOLF COURSE

Country Club Estates, by the new golf course immediately north of the city, has 375 lots and Forest Park Estates, also to the north, has 89 lots available. Only half a dozen lots out of the original 150 are still available in Woodlands estate. One of the most popular building areas has been Beach Estates, which overlooks the Black Ball wharf and Departure Bay, where fine post and beam construction homes have been built on nearly all of the 100 lots.

There are 100 lots available on Smugglers Hill and at Pacific Properties, which overlooks

Once-Shabby Community Now Healthy, Strong

Departure Bay, there are 150 lots.

What will become almost a small city is planned at Ocean Village on the north side of the city just past Departure Bay, where 450 acres will be subdivided into 1,000 lots, with a lake in the middle of the subdivision.

Thunderbird Park, again north of Nanaimo, is planned for small holdings and will have 82 half-acre lots. Shoreline Park Estates is another subdivision in the Wellington Long Lake area.

One of the finest subdivision sites is Lynburn, adjacent to the new golf course. There are about 150 lots, with ocean view, left in this subdivision and they range from $1,600 to $3,000.

At Hawthorne Hill, by the old Nanaimo Golf Course, lots are selling in the $1,600 class. Some 50 acres near the new Nanaimo Hospital are being subdivided into about 150 lots, to be known as Wildwood Park.

Overlooking Departure Bay is the Sherwood Forest subdivision which has 275 lots, some of them waterfront, which are for sale at from $2,500 to $6,000. Morning Side Beach at Pipers Lagoon has 300 acres to be subdivided into about 600 lots.

Garden Notes

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

I have had, a surprisingly large number of letters this past year asking me what to do about the suckers springing up in the lawn or garden after a tree or shrub has been cut down. This is getting to be quite a common problem—an ancient lilac or an over-age elm offends the eye and the owner, spurred to action by the sight, puts the axe to it.

The roots, still living, push up a forest of new growth and some of these suckers may appear yards away from the stump of the original plant.

All of us have, at one time or another, pinched out the tip of a geranium or a snapdragon to make it branch out and grow bushy. All of us have cut a hedge back hard to make it bush out and furnish the lower part with new growth. All of us have pruned a weakly rose or fruit tree drastically to encourage more vigorous growth. It is an old gardening axiom that wood growth follows the knife. When we cut down a living tree or shrub, we are pruning it very drastically indeed and its natural response is to push up a forest of suckers.

How to get rid of these suckers is a real problem. Not so difficult in the lawn, perhaps, for constant and frequent mowing of the grass will cut down the suckers and no root can live forever without topgrowth. Most of my correspondents want to know the name of some preparation which, when sprinkled on the stump, will kill the root and cause it to rot away quickly, but as I have pointed out before, there is no such chemical.

If you want to get rid of a tree or shrub, the smart thing to do is to kill it first before you cut it down. If the roots are dead right to the tips, obviously they can't send up any suckers, but the only really satisfactory way of getting a weedkiller chemical to the outermost tips of the roots is through the leaf pores in the living foliage.

The best time is in the late spring, when the leaves are young and fresh and with their pores open. Treatment with Brushkill or Brushbane or any such weedkiller formulated for use on woody subjects will be absorbed by the leaves and translocated to the roots, killing them most effectively. Only when the plant is completely lifeless is it safe to cut it down.

Mind you, killing the tree in this way won't cause the "stump" and roots to disappear miraculously overnight. They will rot away in their own good time and, regardless of advertising claims, there are no preparations which will speed up this process. Small stumps can be yanked out with a truck and chain; big ones must be bulldozed or dug out the hard way, by hand.

The same principle applies in the chemical control of couch grass. Dowpon is a wonderfully effective killer of couch and all grasses but, to get it to the roots, it must be applied when the plants have lots of fresh green leaves to absorb the poison. Mowing the grass first or plowing or rototilling the infested plot before applying the chemical is defeating the object of the treatment.

Strange Things Happening

Capitalism in Russia And Virtue in France!

There are a good many omens and portents abroad the world that life as we know it is changing, not necessarily for the better. In England, Anthony Neil Wedgwood Benn is trying very hard and not very successfully to avoid becoming a viscount, an unpleasantness that descended on him when his father died. Mr. Benn wants to remain plain Mister rather than Viscount Stansgate, which the law quite plainly says he is.

The mind reels. All our lives the dream of becoming a lord, or, if you're a girl, marrying one, has been standard fantasy for just about everyone. If people start turning down titles, how will we manage? Have to rewrite Gilbert and Sullivan. It's not at all easy to divest yourself of a peerage. In fact, it's easier to get a title than get rid of one.

No peer has tried to renounce his peerage since 1678 when the House of Lords effectively ruled that a peerage could not be renounced. Randolph Churchill has written a letter to The Times of London suggesting one way to avoid the House of Lords. Commit treason. That would cost him his title all right. Also his head and his estates. Seems drastic.

And while Viscount Stansgate fights for Misterhood, the town of Middlesbrough, also in England, has taken socialism to new heights or, as the Colonel Blimp would have it, depths. Among its other services, the strongly Labor Middlesbrough town council has decided to add a catering service.

You can have a dinner party in your own home catered by the town council at 9s. 6d. a head which is not at all bad. (For that you get cream of tomato soup, roast chicken, York ham, peach melba, coffee, cheese, and biscuits.) The town council will throw in maid service at a shilling a head (roughly 12 cents). That means the maid would serve a dinner party of eight for 96 cents. While Viscount Stansgate lives like a commoner, all the commoners, in Middlesbrough at least, will be living like lords.

And while these unlikely happenings are occurring in England, across the Channel, France is trying to cope with an ancient problem, prostitution. Prostitution is hardly an exclusively French problem, but it is—uh—committed in France in a peculiarly French way and that's going to change.

The French police are going to be given broader powers designed to crack down on bars and hotels catering to prostitutes. In effect the prostitute is to be driven off the street as she was in England. No one expects prostitution to disappear. French realists insist that the girls of the boulevards, long a familiar sight to tourists will be replaced by the call girl, which is strictly an American institution.

Already the French have acquired the quick lunch counter. The Champs Elysees has spawned an American drugstore. Now the French are getting the call girl. The French preferred the streets where they could look over the girls, flirt a bit, and above all, shop around. But no more. Malheur!

And from Russia comes word that there are still many, many privately-owned farms in Russia. Forty years after the Russian revolution, private farming still produces 32 per cent of Soviet eggs, 70 per cent of its potatoes, and almost half its meat and milk production. Rampaging capitalism in Russia, reluctant lords in England, and virtue in France! What's the world coming to?

Hollywood Today

Jackie Gleason Sees Himself Playing Hamlet

By SHEILAH GRAHAM

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Jackie Gleason is trying to talk his CBS bosses into letting him play Hamlet on TV. Jackie believes there isn't anything he cannot do—and I agree. But Hamlet!

The lawsuits of Elizabeth Taylor's that I told you about should be popping any day now.

It will be "on the double" out of Hollywood for Wilfred Hyde White from the movie's rap-up here to get to London in time for the expected New Year's Eve birth of his baby, Wilfred—in his early 60's, I believe—married a very young Miss a couple of years ago. This baby is their second... and are those stork wings flapping at the Charlie Chaplins' home in Switzerland again? The comedian must be trying for a baker's dozen.

Sighs 21-year-old Nancy Kwan, the "Suzie Wong" star, "If only I were younger!" She likes William Holden's 17-year-old son. Bill comforted her with, "He likes older women."

Glenn Ford is flying in from Paris and Anne Baxter from Australia to attend the "Climmarron" premiere in Oklahoma City, Dec. 1.

David Niven told his sons that he plans to leave them nothing in his will. He'll educate them—then they are on their own. Based on David's education and the men who inherit money are robbed of initiative and happiness. However, I have a sneaky feeling there'll be something for the boys in David's last will and testament.

The closing of Jack Lemmon's play, "Face of a Hero," gave Jack the first real, he's had in 13 months. He's now back in Hollywood. "It wears you out to work so hard," says Jack wearily. "But I don't know of anything, even sleep, that doesn't wear you out." Next movie for Jack is "Notorious Landlady," at Columbia, followed by "Dangerous Silence" for Sam Spiegel in London. Doesn't sound like a long rest.

Paul Newman will star with Suzy Parker in "The Hustlers"—"it" smiles Suzy, "his wife (Joanne Woodward) will lend him out to me." Paul and Joanne make a lot of movies together. But Joanne is happy to sit out now and then, as she did for six months while "Exodus" was filmed in Israel.

Rosalind Russell has planned her next Broadway play for the 1962-63 season, to follow her two movies with Sir Alec Guinness—"A Majority of One" and "Five Finger Exercise." Roz tells me that husband Freddie Brissson's "Under the Yum Yum Tree" is doing well at the box office.

Cary Grant wants to play the "Letch"—Hogan—in the movie version of "Yum Yum." And Debbie Reynolds is very interested in the girl who tries platonic love—done by Sandra Church on stage. As for the part of Hogan, played by Gig Young, even Cary will have to be very sharp to be sharper than Gig.

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Fleisch

This column is about a book I haven't read. Some months ago I read the famous bestseller "Mine Enemy Grows Older" by Alexander King. I'd seen Mr. King often on the Jack Paar show and found him clever and entertaining.

So when I saw his book in a paperback edition, I picked it up, took it home and read it with great enjoyment. Then he came out with a second book, "May This House Be Safe From Tigers," which

It Just Didn't Click

But when I settled down with it at home, I found I couldn't read it. Something in it just didn't click. I was unable to get through the first few pages; then I skipped around and read some bits here and there. They didn't appeal to me at all. In the end, I decided to give up. "May This House Be Safe From Tigers" simply isn't for me.

Of course this is a purely personal reaction. Obviously thousands of people have got ten a great deal out of the book. Nevertheless, I think it's worth saying that there's a case to be made against reading a book.

The educators and high-brows always maintain that reading a book is an absolute good. To hear them talk, you can't go wrong as long as you stay home and read a book. While you're engaged in that activity, you're in a state of grace and spending time on the side of the angels.

Well, it isn't so. Reading a book is sometimes good and sometimes bad for you. Just like anything else in the world.

Why So Virtuous?

The sheer act of taking in words printed between covers has no redeeming power by itself. You may be better off never having opened that particular book; you may be more usefully employed in reading the paper or watching television; you may do more for your mind by playing bridge or taking part in conversation. Who knows? How did this whole thing get started anyway that book-reading is the most virtuous thing in the world?

Schopenhauer, in a famous essay, wrote that reading books is a pernicious habit that stops you from thinking for yourself. Many other great thinkers have said the same thing.

Next time someone blames you for not reading enough or missing this or that bestseller

Summit Issue

Prime Ministers Set Key March Meeting

LONDON, (Reuters)—Commonwealth prime ministers will meet here March 8 to examine East-West problems including the key issue of another summit conference, diplomatic quarters said Tuesday.
By that time British Prime Minister Macmillan may be able to report on a Washington meeting with President-elect John Kennedy, who takes office Jan. 20.

DELAY POSSIBLE
It is not yet known how soon after the inauguration Macmillan will go to Washington. If the Macmillan-Kennedy talks are delayed until after the Commonwealth leaders meet, the British prime minister will be able to report to Kennedy on their views about a new summit conference.

The last Commonwealth premiers' meeting took place here in May—immediately before the abortive summit talks in Paris.

LOWER LEVEL
Kennedy and Macmillan have both declared the next summit get-together should be carefully prepared at a lower level to ensure it will produce some concrete results. This has long been the view of Charles de Gaulle.

He Hasn't Slept a Wink in 61 Years

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — Valentin Medina has always wondered what it feels like to dream.

The 61-year-old farm laborer has had his share of day-dreams like any other Spanish peasant, but he has had difficulty with the nocturnal variety because he claims he has never slept a wink in his life.

Medina insists his illness, termed by doctors as "total insomnia," has not worried him, but he is bored with life because the nights are long and all his friends sleep while he lies awake.

In an effort to find a cure for his malady, Medina walked 140 miles to Madrid from his home in southern Castile and underwent examination in provincial hospital.

Doctors have not made public their findings. Medina left Madrid yesterday with a prescription for a sleeping potion he hopes will end his insomnia.

"The last time some experts worked me over they advised me to drink wine just to see if the alcohol could cure me," he said. "Do you know what happened? The wine gave me more pep and I was wide awake."

"Look, I work like a beast," he explained. "I never get tired of working. I still sign my name with my finger. But I would like to know how to read and write. Nights would be shorter if I could read books. Now I have to sit in front of the kitchen fireplace and do nothing until the cock crows."

Eichmann Lawyer May Quit

BONN (UPI)—West German attorney Robert Servatius said Wednesday he may refuse to defend Adolf Eichmann if he finds the memoirs in a U.S. magazine are actually those of the ex-Nazi.

The memoirs are in the present issue of Life magazine and, if they are true, said Servatius, any defence of Eichmann "would be a waste of time."

He added that, when he read the section where Eichmann was quoted as saying he regretted nothing, not even the killing of millions of Jews, "my hair stood on end."

Algerian Tour

Find Diehards De Gaulle Aim

PARIS (UPI)—President de Gaulle announced Wednesday he will tour Algeria next week in an apparent move to smoke out diehard opponents to his plans for a semi-independent Algerian republic.

De Gaulle decided to make the trip, beginning Dec. 9, despite warnings from military and cabinet advisers that it would be dangerous for him to appear in Algeria where his policies have stirred right-wing settler hostility.

Another of de Gaulle's controversial proposals—the bill for an independent French nuclear striking force—suffered a new rebuff in the Senate, which voted against the project 182 to 84 on second reading. It had voted against the bill by a 186-73 margin Nov. 10.

The new setback, however, had only a delaying effect on ultimate passage.

THIRD VOTE
It will force the government into a third straight confidence vote on the measure in the lower house, the national assembly. Its passage by the assembly on the third reading would make it a law.

De Gaulle told a cabinet meeting he was making the tour to explain his controversial Algerian policy to French officers and the population in the North African territory.

VOTING DAY
De Gaulle called a special cabinet meeting for the eve of his departure, Dec. 8, to fix the exact date of the referendum he has called to get popular approval for his Algerian policy.

Information Minister Louis Terrenoire said the date of the voting probably would be Jan. 8.

Foreign tourists visiting Greece now average nearly 400,000 annually.

Printers Bootleg Prayers

MOSCOW (UPI)—A band of enterprising Moscow printers have been raking in the rubles by printing black market prayer books with state-owned presses, paper and ink.

The newspaper Literature and Life reported yesterday that the group, which entitled its operation "Hallelujah Printing House," has been arrested and will stand trial.

The prayer book ring consisted of more than a half-dozen printers, mechanics and technicians working at the state public scientific technical library.

It was smashed when ring-leader Sergei Kazeyev, 24, was caught trying to peddle a sack full of prayer books to collective farmers.

The printers violated a law forbidding production of any religious literature "except by official church organizations and under certain controls."

Grand Duchess Buried in Toronto

TORONTO (UPI)—Grand Duchess Olga, the last link with the Czars, was buried yesterday.

It was a simple funeral for the daughter of Alexander III. There was none of the glitter and pomp of days gone by at the requiem mass for Olga, the last of the fallen House of Romanoff.

A crowd of about 50 huddled outside the Russian Orthodox Christ the Savior Cathedral in below-freezing temperatures while 500 packed mourners sang tribute to her. Inside, incense filled the church.

Chambers to Debate High Arrow Protest

KELOWNA (CP)—An emergency meeting of the Okanagan and Mainline district associated boards of trade may be called for some time in December to consider the High Arrow dam proposal in Columbia River hydro-power developments.

The meeting would hear from F. J. Bartholomew of Vancouver, resident professional hydro-electrical engineer who recently addressed a protest meeting in Nakusp on the issue.

Kelowna chamber Tuesday passed a resolution asking the federal and provincial governments to defer immediately any commitments for construction of the dam until complete information is made available to the chamber and communities affected.

MinVitine—

the new sustaining meal that you drink. Lets you lose pounds quickly and safely while satisfying your appetite!

WITH MinVitine, developed by scientists at the famous Ovaltine Laboratories, you can lose unwanted pounds. Read how you achieve the weight you want without counting calories, while helping to maintain your health and satisfying your appetite!

Almost any diet plan can take off weight, but if you have ever tried to diet, you know that staying with the plan is the big problem. The scientists at the Ovaltine Laboratories were aware of this—so as specialists in nutrition, they developed this remarkable new diet food—MinVitine. It gives you satisfying nourishment at your regular meal times, yet cuts down on weight-building calories. In fact, MinVitine furnishes only 900 calories per day!

MinVitine comes in a jar which contains enough for three meals and a bedtime snack. MinVitine is more than just an appetite appeaser, different from a "bulk without nourishment" food. You simply mix it with cold water, making a delicious drink with a texture much like a malted milk. This is your MinVitine "meal", one that contains only 225 calories, yet supplies you with minerals and vitamins and the nourishment you need while on your diet plan.

You'll be delighted to see how quickly and steadily you lose weight when you use MinVitine according to directions. And you'll find it's easy to stay on your MinVitine Diet Plan because it helps satisfy your appetite. When you have achieved the weight-level you want, it's simple to stay there. Continue MinVitine by using the plan one or two days a week.

Naturally, it's wise for anyone who is dieting, or considering it, to keep in touch with his physician. Today, more and more people are turning to diets which help maintain good nutritional health, like the MinVitine Plan, under the guidance of their doctors.

You'll find new MinVitine at food and drug stores. It comes in three delicious flavors—chocolate, butterscotch and wonderful new coffee! Look for it. MinVitine is the diet plan you can stick to. You know it's good because it comes from the makers of Ovaltine!

500 Fund 'Wonderful' Aid to Widow

By BOB PETHICK
"It is a wonderful help when there are little ones around," a widowed mother said yesterday, referring to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. Mother of four children, she received help from the fund last year.

"I was able to buy a gift for each of the children and paid some back bills. We were never troubled with bills when my husband was alive." Her husband died two years ago and she has found it difficult to make ends meet since the tragedy. "It takes an awful lot of adjustment no matter who goes first," she said.

Hers was a wartime marriage, a happy one. Her husband held a well-paying job. The future looked bright for the family until the head of the household was suddenly stricken.

With insurance money the widow bought a small business and made a desperate effort to keep ahead but was bankrupt in six months. "I didn't ask enough questions and had no advice," she said.

She was soon forced to seek welfare assistance.

Her name is on a waiting list for an evening job. She hopes to be taken on as soon as a vacancy occurs. "If I can only hold on for another two years my oldest boy will be able to help then," she said.

This family is one of 500 helped last year by The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. Each family received $20.95 as a result of the efforts of generous Greater Victoria residents.

Donations should be ad-

Did Dud Hit Cuba?

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A U.S. "double-header" satellite was deliberately blown up minutes after launching Wednesday, and a spokesman for a Cuban newspaper said early today part of a rocket fell in Cuba.

Revolt Beaten

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentine troops yesterday crushed an attempt by diehard followers of ousted dictator Juan Peron to topple the government.

In brief but bloody fighting, loyal army forces turned back sharp rebel surprise attacks on Rosario and Puerto Bergh, in Santa Fe province, and Tagaland Vespucio, in Salta.

Scotch Out For Army

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The defence department yesterday ordered U.S. military exchanges overseas to stop buying Scotch, Canadian and other foreign liquors.

Stop Buying U.K. Stock Ford Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In an effort to halt the flow of U.S. dollars abroad Treasury Secretary Anderson asked the Ford Motor Co. to stop its plans to pay $350,000,000 for outstanding stock and control of its British subsidiary.

Saanich Faces Contempt Writ Over Sewer

A motion filed in B.C. Supreme Court here seeks an order holding the corporation of the municipality of Saanich in contempt of a previous court order, handed down March 30 by Mr. Justice J. G. Rutman.

The motion is returnable in Supreme Court on Jan. 4, and particulars are being provided to all members of Saanich council.

Three years ago Saanich constructed a sewer line through part of the property of Warren E. Dennis, 3517 Lorraine—an act termed a trespass by the owner.

Mr. Justice Rutman last spring held that Mr. Dennis owned the sewer line, and gave the municipality until Oct. 19 to shut off the line or move it out.

By that date nothing had been done by the municipality, and since Oct. 19 the municipality has instituted expropriation proceedings to acquire the land involved—an action deemed a further contempt by the motion, filed on behalf of Mr. Dennis by counsel Gerald Lauder.

The motion asks that the municipality be found in contempt and dealt with accordingly, and offers proposals concerning the transaction that would be satisfactory to the plaintiff.

Caracas Shaken

Riots, Killings Rip Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Communist and leftist students turned University City into a fortress yesterday and defied the army to oust them. Anti-government disturbances spread from the capital to at least six provinces. Three persons died as a result of violence at University City. A student and guardsman were shot, and a Dominican died of a heart attack.

Anti-government violence that has shaken Caracas for the past six days spread to the states of Lara, Guaroico, Carabobo, Cojedes, Zulia and Portuguesa.

University council ordered evacuation of the buildings, but leftist students defied the order. They prepared to hold out indefinitely. They were supplied with food and ammunition by friends outside.

More than 200 persons involved in anti-government violence have been arrested in recent days.

Nuclear Controls Stand

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker yesterday denied there has been any "watering down" of Canada's stand that it must have joint control of any nuclear weapons stored in Canada.

He was commenting on remarks by William Fulbright, chairman of the U.S. Senate foreign relations committee, that Canada would be satisfied with being told beforehand of any firings of nuclear weapons stored in Canada.

"When and if nuclear weapons are used we shall not accept them unless we have joint control," Mr. Diefenbaker emphasized.

Germans Buy Malahat Acres

West German interests headed by Prince von Furstenberg are reported to have purchased close to 2,000 acres of lake-studded second-growth timberland in the Malahat-Shawigan Lake district.

The area is to be converted into a tree farm.

Reports of the transaction, so far not confirmed by local agents for the group, indicate

Triumphant return to his homeland by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu was marked at Leopoldville airport by hearty kiss from his wife. Kasavubu delegation was seated by UN a few days earlier over opposition from Communist bloc and some African nations.—(AP Photofax.)

Tug Breaks Into Bits Crew Leaps for Life

BANDON, Ore. (AP)—An ocean-going tug, in swirling currents and a driving wind, crashed into a rock jetty as it came into the harbor here Wednesday, and broke into bits minutes after its rudder failed.

All 11 men aboard were saved—10 by a pair of fast-acting men on the tug Rebel, and one largely by his own efforts.

The 117-foot tug Elizabeth Olson of Eureka, Calif., had just headed into harbor when a swell slammed it into the jetty.

Skipper A. T. Peterson and deckhand Bob Fisher raced to the spot aboard Rebel, threw two lines on the wreck and the tugs were held close enough for 10 men to leap to safety.

Before the Rebel came up, the stricken tug's skipper had been swept off the deck by one wave and washed back by another.

Seaman Paul Madsen was swept overboard but managed to clamber to the top of the jetty and made his way ashore along it.

Fight on Floor Resumes Today

OTTAWA (CP)—With a national rail strike less than 60 hours away, the government ran into stiff opposition in the Commons Wednesday to its emergency stop-the-strike law.

Both Liberal and CCF-New Party opposition groups denounced the government's legislation to head off the threatened Saturday walkout of some 111,000 rail workers on the CPR, CNR and four smaller railways.

SECOND READING

The Liberals sought to kill the bill at second reading—approval in principle—with a technical amendment charging it establishes "a compulsory and discriminatory wage freeze for railway employees."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker closed off the 110-minute debate at 6 p.m. EST without a vote on the Liberal amendment.

FLOOR FIGHT

The fight on the floor of the Commons—watched from the galleries by chief union negotiator Frank H. Hall—will resume this afternoon, with the strike deadline of 8 a.m. regional standard moving closer by the hour.

Opposition speakers attacked the legislation which Labor Minister Starr called "the only possible action that can be taken at this time to avert a calamity of nationwide proportions."

BASIC ISSUE

While none liked the idea of a strike, opposition MPs lambasted the government's plan to shunt the railway strike crisis ahead to May 15 without solving the basic wage issue behind it.

The Liberals called for a compulsory settlement tied to a conciliation board award of 14 cents an hour for the so-called "non-up" workers—railway men who do not run trains.

Douglas Fisher, CCF member for Port Arthur, speaking for his party and the single New Party MP, argued for a subsidy solution to the multi-million-dollar wage stalemate.

DOOR OPEN

Labor Minister Starr said the government preferred to leave the door open to a negotiated settlement at a time when conditions will be favorable rather than adopt either opposition suggestion.

The Commons tackled the rail legislation after giving third and final reading by a 208-to-0 vote to a bill providing government-guaranteed bank loans to small businesses. The vote followed defeat of a CCF amendment calling for the bill to be referred back to committee for "clarification."

IN STALEMATE

The stop-the-strike bill, introduced in a hurry for first reading Tuesday night, leaves the unions and railways still in a stalemate over the wage issue.

It would defer any strike action to May 15, when the government expects to have passed legislation giving new life to the ailing railway industry—legislation based on a royal commission report due March 31.

Both Mr. Pearson and Mr. Fisher argued that the government's legislative freeze on collective bargaining—and its ultimate conclusion, a strike—would discredit the whole conciliation procedure.

Less Fallout

Test Ban Pays Dividends

LONDON (UPI)—A team of British scientists said yesterday the Big Three's suspension of nuclear test explosions is paying dividends in a decrease of radioactive fallout.

A report by Britain's atomic research and testing unit at Harwell said the peak in world fallout was reached last year. The last known nuclear tests were both held by the French this year in the Sahara Desert on Feb. 13 and April 1.

Flick of Switch May Help Some Old Victorian

A flick of your front porch light switch tonight may help some lonely, elderly Victorian resident spend his remaining years in comfort at the Kiwanis Villa housing unit.

Money donated during the porchlight drive throughout the Greater Victoria area will go towards a $233,000 winter works project which will provide 52 deserving persons with living accommodation. Each dollar raised tonight will have a cumulative effect on the local economy, say officials of the Victoria Kiwanis Village Society.

Apart from the project itself, it will draw an additional one-third grant from the provincial government, will provide nine months' employment for a number of workmen, will help circulate dollars through the community and will provide the donor with an eligible income tax deduction.

Although a contract has been let and work already started, a spokesman said last night $88,000 is required to complete the job.

Porchlights should be turned on by 6.30 p.m. to indicate to canvassers your willingness to help Victoria's elderly single persons.

'No Frills' School Opened in Saanich

Road Fires Face Ban

Oak Bay police are planning a crackdown on residents who burn leaves on public streets, Reeve George Murdoch said last night.

"The smoke is a traffic hazard, and curbs, heated from the smoldering fires, crack if rain falls," he said.

Hospital Worker A Patient

It was her day off, but Royal Jubilee Hospital telephone switchboard operator Mrs. Jessie Rosemus, 35, ended up at the hospital just the same.

She received a bump on the head and a chest injury in a two-car collision at the Metcosh-Wishart Road intersection about 6.30 p.m. yesterday.

The other car was driven by John L. Fisher of Metcoshin, said police. Mrs. Rosemus was taken to hospital by Langford volunteer fire department ambulance.

Hydrofoil Fare Up To $5

Proposed fare to travel between Bellingham and Victoria on the hydrofoil vessel Flying Fish has been increased from $2.50 to $5 one-way, city council was informed yesterday.

B.C. Yacht Brokers Ltd., Victoria representatives of the hydrofoil ferry company, advised council of the change and asked for its approval. Return fare will be $8.

Start of once-a-day service awaits completion of customs arrangements.

Lack of "frills" in school construction was the theme hammered home by speakers from all levels of government concerned with education at the official opening last night of the $585,000 new Gordon Head Junior High School.

Reeve George Chatterton of Saanich, who officially declared it open, told more than 400 parents in the audience that the school, which first opened its doors three months ago, was only "adequate."

CONTROVERSY

"There might be controversy over how the money to build this school was raised," said Mr. Chatterton. "And the type of curriculum to be followed is also open to discussion."

The reeve said: "These arguments are healthy and good for education. But on one point there should be no controversy—that is on the value of education."

"Education is probably our major resource in Canada today and anything whatever that threatens to jeopardize our school system bears close examination."

FUNCTIONAL

G. W. Graham, assistant superintendent of administration for the department of education, described the school as "not extravagant, but functional."

W. C. Gelling, chairman of Greater Victoria school board, said the completed costs of $11.15 per square foot compared favorably with costs of building a home.

Trustee R. H. Reeve, chairman of the board's building and grounds committee, said he found it "inconceivable that anyone would obstruct the presentation to the community of such a school as this one."

GET OUT

Without making direct reference to the school building by-law planned for School District 61 next March, Mr. Reeve urged all parents to get out and vote on education questions. He added: "I always feel that if enough people turn out the bylaw will pass."

Principal J. W. Downard told the audience the large stage of the auditorium where they were seated has the same dimensions and facilities as a classroom including a sliding, soundproof partition to block off the proscenium arch.

The stage is now used for classes from 8 a.m. until noon, the principal added, and soon will be in daily use until 5 p.m.

Sam Lane Seeks Seat on Council

Sam Lane, leading representative of the tourist industry in Victoria, announced last night that he will run for city council.

His entry into the race for four council seats brings the number of announced candidates to 10.

Finally swayed, he said, by a Colonist editorial calling on energetic businessmen to offer themselves for council, he decided to run because of the increasing importance of the tourist industry.

The Manchester-born RAF veteran and his Victoria-born wife are proprietors of The Olde England Inn.

In his 14 years in Victoria Mr. Lane has been a leader in tourist trade activities. He is a past-president of the Esquimal Lions Club, a past-chairman of the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, a director of the chamber and chairman of the tourist trade section of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island.

He is an advocate of redevelopment of Bastion Square as a park and tourist centre and revitalization of downtown Victoria.

"I have been working extremely hard," he said, "on new tourist attractions which will mean bigger payrolls, more jobs and a greater potential for young Victorians."

LAKE PARKS PROBLEM

The Conservation Council yesterday threw an issue into the quiet civic election campaign—dedication of Thetis, Elk and Beaver Lakes as parks.

The areas are held by the city as watersheds, although used as parks.

A letter to the mayor and aldermen said many people are "justifiably concerned that these valuable natural areas have not been given clear-cut reservation as parks in perpetuity."

It pressed for a commitment to initiate a study of the problem of dedicating the areas "and to accomplish this by the spring season of 1961."

LAST CHANCE TODAY

Nominations for the civic elections will close today in Victoria.

From noon until 2 p.m., city clerk and returning officer M. Frank Hunter will keep his

Total Down

November Slightly Sunnier

The month of November had slightly more sunshine than in past years but the sunshine total so far this year is still down by 37.9 hours.

There were 823 hours of sunshine in November, 3.8 hours more than normal and the yearly total now stands at 2,112.8 hours.

Average temperature was 45.2 degrees. A maximum of 53.7 degrees was recorded Nov. 5 and a minimum of 36 on Nov. 27.

A trace of snow fell Nov. 22 and again Nov. 24. There were 16 days of measurable precipitation in which 3.55 inches were recorded. Total yearly rainfall to date is 20.3 inches, down .99-inch from past years.

Share Cost City Asked

Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday asked the city to share the cost of lighted Christmas trees in tubs to be used to decorate some downtown sidewalks this year.

In the past, the city has contributed $750 toward holly baskets which will be discontinued.

"GROOS ROOTS" CAMPAIGN: Captain David W. Groos, Liberal candidate in the coming Esquimalt-Saanich by-election, says he is glad the subject of his membership in the Victoria Progressive Conservative Association has come out into the open.

It was reported here yesterday that Capt. Groos had been referred to at his nominating convention as a long-term Liberal, yet still a card-carrying member of the Tory branch.

Capt. Groos said he attended a Conservative meeting, and took out a membership so he could support a friend in nomination for the provincial election, and also attended a Social Credit meeting as part of his political education.

He was asked by the column yesterday if he hadn't also attended meetings of the Tory organizational committee during the provincial campaign.

"I wouldn't know if it was an organizing committee or not," replied the captain.

"Isn't it also true that you were a poll captain for the Conservatives during the campaign?" he was asked.

"Certainly not. That's incorrect," said Capt. Groos. "... What does a poll captain do?"

He said he had been asked to check on the voter's lists in one area to see that all eligible voters were included in the rolls.

"I said I would help out in my district... but I wasn't able to do so," he replied.

Reaction from the Liberals themselves was varied.

One charged that this column was deliberately trying to "frame the captain" while another said it was none of their business anyway.

Special Time Set For Dairy Hearing

Special trial time—Friday, Dec. 9 at 3 p.m.—has been set in Saanich police court in the case of Henry Robinson, manager of the Milky Way Dairy, 815 Beckwith, charged with refusing entrance of a milk inspector to his dairy.

Saanich court is normally held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 p.m.

When defence counsel Alan Macfarlane entered a plea of not guilty on behalf of his client this week, the special date was fixed because of busy court lists.

Laid under the Milk Industry Act, the charge alleges that Robinson refused entry to Peter Regehr, a milk inspector for the department of agriculture.

The best answer during the day: "Anyway, it wasn't said that Captain Groos was a Liberal all his life, just that he was a (small l) liberal."

Capt. Groos, in summary: "I feel that Mr. Eisenhower went through the same sort of thing when he approached political life."

HELPING HAND: New military aide to Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes is Major Robert Frost, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, who is stationed at Work Point.

Major Frost is a son of Charles Sydney Frost, M.C., president of The Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto and son of an old Nova Scotia family. The major's father won his Military Cross with the Royal Newfoundland Regiment in the First World War in France.

DIFFERENT ROLE: John Wood, research assistant to CCF leader Robert Strachan, says he wasn't acting in this capacity when he issued a statement saying the decision of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Government Employees' Association to disaffiliate with Victoria Labor Council was unconstitutional.

He wanted to make it plain, he said, that he was speaking as a member of the association for the past eight years and a former president of the New Denver branch.

SEATS GALORE: The staff must have outnumbered the patrons at the late showing of the Oscar Wilde movie at the Royal Theatre Tuesday night. But it didn't faze the doorman who, when asked if there were some good seats left upstairs, replied: "I think there are a few, sir."

There were only nine or so patrons in the whole theatre.

A total of 39 deer were checked through gate of MacMillan and Bloedel's Nanaimo River logging camp during a 24-hour period recently as

Mayor's Reports Labelled 'Fantasy'

ALBERNI — Annual council stewardship meeting in Alberni was highlighted by Mayor Mabel Anderson's views on matters which raised contention in city hall during the past year.

She spoke on the post office issue, plans for a joint Alberni-Port Alberni dog pound, Kit-sucks Creek Bridge, and the matter of transferring property of the Waterhouse estate. In her opinion, the transfer jeopardized the city's old water-line right-of-way, she indicated.

Joe Cates was chairman of the meeting which was attended by approximately 80 people.

During the candidates' forum which followed the reports of the council, Ald. Thomas Barnett drew a comparison between reports by aldermen and by the mayor, declaring that the $348,000 will be spent by the end of the year. "We may have a little left, but this will be reserved for projects already planned," he said.

The city's borrowing power is still very substantial, Ald. Blair reported. He said the city will be faced with increased costs for wages, library, social welfare and education in the coming year. "I'm sure that the 1961 council will try to hold the line in costs and taxes, however," he said.

Council Briefs

Cowichan Flooding Charged

NORTH COWICHAN — An investigation will be launched into charges by Henry and W. T. Bonsall of Westholme that B.C. Forest Products Ltd., during construction of its pulp mill, diverted natural drains and caused flooding on their property.

An engineer is to see both property owners and company officials and make a report to council.

Approval was given to extension of the city water system into the municipality along Sherman and Somenos Roads to the new Mount Prevost junior high school.

During the work four pipes are to be installed on the line for eventual use by the municipality for fire hydrants.

The 1961 contract with W. H. Hawkes, Trunk Road, for collection and disposal of garbage was renewed at $385 a month, an increase of $15.

Council agreed with Reeve Donald Morton who stated increased number of houses warrants the additional expense.

A request from Cowichan Exhibition board for an annual grant of $500 instead of the present $150 was referred to finance committee for consideration when preparing next year's budget.

Four lots on Coronation at Edmonds in Crofton were set aside for a new firehall—at the request of the Crofton volunteer fire department.

Charity Drive Kicked Off

Duncan city council kicked-off the Cowichan Christmas Cheer Fund campaign with personal donations and wishes of good luck. Receiving the donations is George Sinden, fund

Christmas Can Be Sad Without Enough Food

DUNCAN — Christmas can be celebrated without presents but not without food on the table.

And this year the Cowichan Christmas cheer fund hopes to put food on the tables of at least 300 families, 90 more than last year.

Cash donations are needed badly and can be mailed to treasurer George Sinden at P.O. Box 928.

Everyone is asked to remember those who for some reason are not so fortunate.

Some of the families are facing a bleak winter because of unemployment. Some are only able to get seasonal work at the best of times. Many are too proud to apply for relief.

A few families are needy because of the death of a parent. Others because of sickness, or inability to compete for jobs.

But whatever the reason, children should not be doomed to a Christmas with an empty stomach.

Just a little can give happiness, and possibly the spark that will allow the family to need ever ask for help again.

Marine Veteran Dies

DUNCAN — Requiem mass will be said here Friday for a man who was born on the high seas and who spent most of his life there.

Marine engineer Joseph C. H. L. Smith, 86, died at Mary Moore Salvation Army Hospital in Cobble Hill yesterday.

He was born while his parents were aboard ship on the Indian Ocean bound from India to England and his birth was registered at Penang, Malaysia.

In spite of advancing years he remained active in the merchant service during the Second World War, serving as engineer aboard Allied tankers, and finally retired in 1948.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. L. L. Foxall, here, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mass will be said in St. Edward's Church at 10 a.m. Burial will be St. Ann's Cemetery, Trousdale Road.

Hirst funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

500 Fund 'Wonderful' Aid to Widow

By BOB PETHICK
"It is a wonderful help when there are little ones around," a widowed mother said yesterday, referring to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. "Other of four children, she received help from the fund last year."
"I was able to buy a gift for each of the children and paid some back bills. We were never troubled with bills when my husband was alive." Her husband died two years ago and she has found it difficult to make ends meet since the tragedy. "It takes an awful lot of adjustment no matter who goes first," she said.

Hers was a wartime marriage, a happy one. Her husband held a well-paying job. The future looked bright for the family until the head of the household was suddenly stricken.

With insurance money the widow bought a small business and made a desperate effort to keep ahead but was bankrupt in six months. "I didn't ask enough questions and had no advice," she said.
She was soon forced to seek welfare assistance.
Her name is on a waiting list for an evening job. She hopes to be taken on as soon as a vacancy occurs. "If I can only hold on for another two years my oldest boy will be able to help then," she said.

This family is one of 500 helped last year by The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. Each family received $20.95 as a result of the efforts of generous Greater Victoria residents.
Donations should be adressed to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund and mailed or brought to 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street.

A bride doll will be raffled at McLure's Food Market, 2518 Estevan. Draw will take place at the end of next week, and proceeds are for the 500 Christmas Fund.
Victoria Motorcycle Club will stage a scramble at Colwood Race Track for the Colonist 500 Fund. Racing starts at 1 p.m.

Did Dud Hit Cuba?

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A U.S. "double-header" satellite was deliberately blown up minutes after launching Wednesday, and a spokesman for a Cuban newspaper said early today part of a rocket fell in Cuba.

Revolt Beaten

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentine troops yesterday crushed an attempt by diehard followers of ousted dictator Juan Peron to topple the government.
In brief but bloody fighting, loyal army forces turned back sharp rebel surprise attacks on Rosario and Puerto Bergh, in Santa Fe province, and Tagaland Vespucio, in Salta.

Scotch Out For Army

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The defence department yesterday ordered U.S. military exchanges overseas to stop buying Scotch, Canadian and other foreign liquors.

LIBERALS' BID FAILS TO KILL STRIKE BILL

Saanich Faces Contempt Writ Over Sewer

A motion filed in B.C. Supreme Court here seeks an order holding the corporation of the municipality of Saanich in contempt of a previous court order, handed down March 30 by Mr. Justice J. G. Rutman.
The motion is returnable in Supreme Court on Jan. 4, and particulars are being provided to all members of Saanich council.
Three years ago Saanich constructed a sewer line through part of the property of Warren E. Dennis, 3517 Lorraine—an act termed a trespass by the owner.
Mr. Justice Rutman last spring held that Mr. Dennis owned the sewer line, and gave the municipality until Oct. 19 to shut off the line or move it out.
By that date nothing had been done by the municipality, and since Oct. 19 the municipality has instituted expropriation proceedings to acquire the land involved—an action deemed a further contempt by the motion, filed on behalf of Mr. Dennis by counsel Gerald Lauder.
The motion asks that the municipality be found in contempt and dealt with accordingly, and offers proposals concerning the transaction that would be satisfactory to the plaintiff.

Triumphant return to his homeland by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu was marked at Leopoldville airport by hearty kiss from his wife. Kasavubu delegation was seated by UN a few days earlier over opposition from Communist bloc and some African nations.—(AP Photofax.)

Riots, Killings Rip Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Communist and leftist students turned University City into a fortress yesterday and defied the army to oust them. Anti-government disturbances spread from the capital to at least six provinces.
Three persons died as a result of violence at University City. A student and guard were shot, and a Dominican died of a heart attack.
Anti-government violence that has shaken Caracas for the past six days spread to the states of Lara, Guaroico, Carabobo, Cojedes, Zulia and Portuguesa.
University council ordered evacuation of the buildings, but leftist students defied the order. They prepared to hold out indefinitely. They were supplied with food and ammunition by friends outside.
More than 200 persons involved in anti-government violence have been arrested in recent days.

Nuclear Controls Stand

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker yesterday denied there has been any "watering down" of Canada's stand that it must have joint control of any nuclear weapons stored in Canada.
He was commenting on remarks by William Fulbright, chairman of the U.S. Senate foreign relations committee, that Canada would be satisfied with being told beforehand of any firings of nuclear weapons stored in Canada.
"When and if nuclear weapons are used we shall not accept them unless we have joint control," Mr. Diefenbaker emphasized.

Germans Buy Malahat Acres

West German interests headed by Prince von Furstenberg are reported to have purchased close to 2,000 acres of lake-studded second-growth timberland in the Malahat-Shawnigan Lake district.
The area is to be converted into a tree farm.
Reports of the transaction, so far not confirmed by local agents for the group, indicate

Tug Breaks Into Bits Crew Leaps for Life

BANDON, Ore. (AP)—An ocean-going tug, in swirling currents and a driving wind, crashed into a rock jetty as it came into the harbor here Wednesday, and broke into bits minutes after its rudder failed.
All 11 men aboard were saved—10 by a pair of fast-acting men on the tug Rebel, and one largely by his own efforts.
The 117-foot tug Elizabeth Olson of Eureka, Calif., had just headed into harbor when a swell slammed it into the jetty.
Skipper A. T. Peterson and deckhand Bob Fisher raced to the spot aboard Rebel, threw two lines on the wreck and the tugs were held close enough for 10 men to leap to safety.
Before the Rebel came up, the stricken tug's skipper had been swept off the deck by one wave and washed back by another.
Seaman Paul Madsen was swept overboard but managed to clamber to the top of the jetty and made his way ashore along it.

Rail Battle Not Over Yet

OTTAWA (CP)—With a national rail strike less than 60 hours away, the government ran into stiff opposition in the Commons Wednesday to its emergency stop-the-strike law.

Both Liberal and CCF-New Party opposition groups denounced the government's legislation to head off the threatened Saturday walkout of some 111,000 rail workers on the CPR, CNR and four smaller railways.
The Liberals sought to kill the bill at second reading—approval in principle—with a technical amendment charging it establishes "a compulsory and discriminatory wage freeze for railway employees."
Prime Minister Diefenbaker closed off the 110-minute debate at 6 p.m. EST without a vote on the Liberal amendment.

FLOOR FIGHT
The fight on the floor of the Commons—watched from the galleries by chief union negotiator Frank H. Hall—will resume this afternoon, with the strike deadline of 8 a.m. regional standard moving closer by the hour.
Opposition speakers attacked the legislation which Liberal Minister Starr called "the only possible action that can be taken at this time to avert a calamity of nationwide proportions."

BASIC ISSUE
While none liked the idea of a strike, opposition MPs lambasted the government's plan to shunt the railway strike crisis ahead to May 15 without solving the basic wage issue behind it.
The Liberals called for a compulsory settlement tied to a conciliation board award of 14 cents an hour for the so-called "non-op" workers—railway men who do not run trains.
Douglas Fisher, CCF member for Port Arthur, speaking for his party and the single New Party MP, argued for a subsidy solution to the multi-million-dollar wage stalemate.
Labor Minister Starr said the government preferred to leave the door open to a negotiated settlement at a time when conditions will be favorable.

Less Fallout
The stop-the-strike bill, introduced in a hurry for first reading Tuesday night, leaves the unions and railways still in a stalemate over the wage issue.
It would defer any strike action to May 15, when the government expects to have passed legislation giving new life to the ailing railway industry—legislation based on a royal commission report due March 31.
Both Mr. Pearson and Mr. Fisher argued that the government's legislative freeze on collective bargaining—and its ultimate conclusion, a strike—would discredit the whole conciliation procedure.

Court Routs Mother-in-Law

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP)—A man's home is his castle and he has every right to refuse entrance to his mother-in-law, Magistrate F. K. Jaspersen said Wednesday.
He found Mrs. Margaret Kew of Port Credit, Ont., guilty of assault in a Nov. 20 scuffle with her son-in-law, James Russell of Chatham.
Mrs. Kew said Russell would not let her visit his home to see her daughter.
Russell testified that on Nov. 20 Mrs. Kew broke down the locked front door, tore his shirt, broke his watch and hit him.
"I did smack him," Mrs. Kew told the court. She was ordered to sign a bond to keep the peace for six months.

Test Ban Pays Dividends

LONDON (UPI)—A team of British scientists said yesterday the Big Three's suspension of nuclear test explosions is paying dividends in a decrease of radioactive fallout.
A report by Britain's atomic research and testing unit at Harwell said the peak in world fallout was reached last year.
The last known nuclear tests were both held by the French this year in the Sahara Desert on Feb. 13 and April 1.
